

CULTURE AND THE POCKETBOOK

Interesting Talk by Director of Vocational Education for Massachusetts

Robert O. Small Pleads for Special Training for Each Child

Latin and Greek Not Necessary to Cultivate and Give Character

Is culture only a veneer? Does it largely depend on the fairness of the pocketbook, and the social clique with which we travel? Robert O. Small, director of vocational education for Massachusetts, indicated that these factors enter into the culture which is produced by the accepted modes of classical education as bestowed at our schools where Latin and Greek flourish. Mr. Small pleaded for special training for each child, and specified that it is training which fit him for some particular thing. The child does not need Latin and Greek to cultivate and give character, he declared. The humble every-day things of life will give this, he said. But he insisted that it is the state's duty to vocationally train every child, so that he or she may have an equal opportunity for betterment in the world. The speaker, introduced by President Michael J. Carhill, of the Hamilton Manufacturing company association, spoke at 10:30 a. m. in the last lecture of a series of four arranged by the employees' organization of the company. He said: "Lowell was the first city in the commonwealth to take advantage of the state law establishing vocational schools. In fact, before state aided schools of this sort were established, Lowell had founded the Textile school. This institution was one of the first, if not the first textile school established in the country, and this city is to be congratulated on its initiative in organizing the pioneer enterprise. The state schools, however, deal more with other industries than the textile. They are offering a kind of training which should be widely accepted. You who are interested in workaday affairs of life should back the task of augmenting this training."

Praises Mill Officials

The speaker paid high praise to the officials of the mill, characterizing them as men who are offering real opportunities to their employees, in providing courses of an educational nature. He declared that such lines of educational endeavor could do more effective work, in some ways, than the schools. "We have got to change our views on education in some respects," he added. He flouted the "common dominant notion of education as something that is dealt with only in schools and from textbooks—a mass of information which is learned and then forgotten." He insisted that education does not stop there, and continued.

HILDRETH ST. HOUSE DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire caused damage to the extent of between $1000 and $1500 to the seven-room house of William H. Wood, a retired mail carrier, at 37 Hildreth street this morning. The house is owned by David Evans and family, but there was no one at home when the fire occurred. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The fire was discovered by Patrolman Judge, shortly before 9 o'clock, when he saw smoke pouring through the roof. He pulled in an alarm from box 65. Upon their arrival the firemen laid a couple of hose from the hydrant and unrolled a couple lines of chemical. By the time they got ready the fire had spread through the partitions to the roof and for some time it was feared that the house was doomed. Ladders were raised and a great portion of the roof was ripped off so as to fight the fire where it was most threatening.

After over a half-hour's work the blaze succumbed to the efforts of the firefighters, but not before the ell of the building and the roof had been wrecked. Considerable damage was caused to the furniture by smoke and water.

CONVENTION OF POSTAL MEN

Gathering of State Letter Carriers' Association in Lowell June 12

Plans for the Entertainment of Many Visitors Have Been Started

A start has been made on plans for holding a convention of the Massachusetts State Letter Carriers' association, branch of the national organization, in Lowell, Sunday, June 12. The convention will bring at least 200 delegates to the city, and it is expected that they will be accompanied by a large number of their associates and friends. The day of the convention and the evening before are to be made gala occasions for the postal men.

Although definite arrangements have not yet been made, it is expected that the sessions of the convention will be held in Odd Fellows hall. The exercises on Sunday will open at 10:30 a. m. It is not known yet what subjects will be taken up for consideration. Last year the question of an increase in pay was at the front, but with the changed business and industrial conditions, it is uncertain whether the subject will be given prominence this year. It is said to be probable, though, that the alleged inequities in pay recommended in the report of the salary commission may be a leading topic of discussion.

It is expected that the sessions of the convention will be presided over by President T. B. McKeligue of Haverhill. The secretary of the organization is George L. Hunt of this city.

In addition to the transaction of the regular business of the convention, it is being planned to have addresses delivered by speakers of national reputation.

On the evening before the opening of the convention, the members of the Lowell Letter Carriers' association will provide an entertainment for the visiting delegates and their friends. The features of the program will be a recent musical by local talent, of which it has been demonstrated in the past, the home association has an abundance. Following the entertainment, a buffet lunch will probably be served. A committee is now being selected to arrange for the entertainment program.

Following the session of the convention on Sunday, a banquet will be served at which the visitors from out of town will be the guests.

At a meeting of the Lowell Letter Carriers' association, to be held next Saturday night, a president will be elected to fill the place made vacant by the death of the late George L. Hunt. Vice President Patrick Owens is now acting as president of the organization.

DRAFT EVADERS' LISTS

Will Be Furnished to All American Legion Posts in United States

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 30.—Lists of men classed by the war department as draft evaders, will be furnished all American Legion posts in the United States beginning about April 1. U. S. C. Harris, adjutant general of the army, made this announcement to national headquarters of the legion today.

A copy of each local draft board's list of evaders will be furnished national headquarters and copies of board lists containing names of offenders in their localities will be forwarded direct to Legion posts. Publication of the 4251 board lists will extend over several months.

F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the legion, recently requested the war department to furnish the organization with these lists. At the same time, all posts were instructed to check the lists carefully that innocent men might be protected and the guilty placed in jail.

ARMED GUARDS ALONG FRONTIER

Austrian Government Seeks to Prevent Former Emperor Re-entering Country

"Little Entente" Ready to Invade Austria if Former Ruler is Allowed to Enter

VIENNA, March 30.—(By Associated Press)—The Austrian government is taking every precaution to prevent former Emperor Charles from re-entering the country from Steiermark, in West Hungary, just over the Austrian boundary, where he is reported to have taken refuge on the estate of a Hungarian nobleman after his unsuccessful attempt to induce the Hungarian regent, Admiral Horthy, to turn over his powers to him. It is rumored, however, that the navy department was notified today that the emperor was in Steiermark and intended to cover the fact that he already is en route to Switzerland.

Armed guards from various organizations have been stationed along the frontier to intercept him should he attempt to re-cross into Austria. The army officers of the association of former officers are under heavy guard to prevent the removal of arms and the homes of all generals in the old imperial army are under police surveillance. It is reported that a large number of officers of the old army are hurrying in groups to towns adjacent to Steiermark. The refusal of the party composed of small farmers to endorse and support Charles, it is understood, was largely responsible for the request of Hungary that he depart from the country.

Meanwhile the "little entente" comprising Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, and Rumania, has served notice on the Austrian government that troops will be included into Austria at the slightest indication that former Emperor Charles is to be permitted to remain in the country. Dispatches from both Belgrade and Prague state that the Yugoslav and Czechoslovak governments will not tolerate his presence.

Uneasiness and nervousness prevails among all classes in Vienna where it is generally recognized the situation is one of the utmost gravity full of possibilities of danger to the republic in an hour already grave from internal causes.

WINTER'S SNOWFALL WAS LIGHTEST IN YEARS

The winter just passed had the lightest snow fall in many years, according to a report of observations made by the Locks & Canals company at the Pawtucket dam, and made public today at the rooms of the chamber of commerce. The figures are for the years from 1894 to 1921, inclusive, with the data for some of the years incomplete.

During the winter just closed the total fall of snow was 26 inches. Last year the fall was 70 inches, and the mean fall for the years included in the table was 37.20 inches.

No snow has fallen in Lowell during the present month. This is the first time that such a thing has happened in several years. Last year 9.5 inches fell in March. In 1916 the heaviest fall of the winter came in March, the record showing an accumulation of 33.8 inches.

February, according to the report, is the month that usually provides the most snow. The mean average is 12.33 inches. This year 12 inches fell. Last year February was the month of blizzards and the total depth of snow piled up was 36.5 inches.

The winter started in this year with a snow deposit of only one inch in December. In January, six inches fell. Last year, for the same month, the record shows accumulations of 4.3 and 19.7 inches for the respective months.

At a meeting of the membership committee of the chamber of commerce, held in the Colonial restaurant today, Louis E. Studley was the principal speaker.

Membership Committee Meets

A meeting of the Lowell Retail Druggists' association was held in the chamber's rooms this morning.

The Lowell Traffic club is to have a supper in the chamber's rooms Tuesday evening, April 5, at 6:30 p. m. The principal speakers are to be Colonel Arthur Payne of Boston, assistant transportation manager of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, and Herbert O. Stetson of Boston, also representing the same organization.

MISSING MARINE AIRMEN SAFE

Landed at Richmond, Va., Resumed Flight This Morning

Left Washington Yesterday En Route to Virgin Islands

RICHMOND, Va., March 30.—Two marine corps airplanes, which landed here yesterday from Washington, en route to the Virgin Islands, took the air again at 9:30 today bound for Fayetteville, N. C. where they were to have spent last night.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The two marine corps airplanes en route to the Virgin Islands landed at Richmond, Va., yesterday afternoon and expected to proceed today to Fayetteville, N. C. The navy department was notified today. No previous word of the whereabouts of the planes had been received since they left here yesterday afternoon.

The message, dated Richmond, and filed yesterday afternoon, reached the department today. It was signed by Major Thomas C. Turner, commanding the expedition and said the machines and their crew were all right and would proceed today.

The planes came down at Richmond at 4:40 p. m., yesterday, nearly four hours after they left here. Marine corps officers said the machines must have encountered trouble which was not indicated in Major Turner's message. They should have reached Fayetteville in about the elapsed flying time.

DANCE TO MUSIC FROM THE AIR

In Lowell, where a year ago for the first time in this country music for dancing was transmitted by radio, last night was given a second demonstration of the sending through the air of the notes of music to which hundreds of feet glided over a ball-room floor.

The sounds were transmitted between the Dartmouth building and Associate hall.

In addition to the dance tunes, there were concert selections, and the music was reproduced with a perfection of tone detail that gave the impression that an invisible orchestra was playing.

The voice of the mayor, delivering a short speech, was also borne through the air between the two buildings and was plainly heard by the distant audience.

An account of the event appears on another page of The Sun.

BOSTON MEN INTERESTED IN LOCAL HOTEL

An important conference arranged by Mayor Perry D. Thompson in cooperation with Sec. Mgr. George F. Wells of the chamber of commerce in an effort to revive interest in the erection of the proposed new Harrisonia hotel was held late yesterday afternoon at the chamber rooms. Five prominent bank and real estate men of Boston, indirectly interested in the hotel building firm, were present together with the architect of the proposed hotel and a dozen or more local business men.

Mayor Thompson outlined the progress of the Harrisonia project to date and the Boston men seemed deeply impressed. They promised to give the matter extended consideration and will make known the mayor at a later date whether they will be able to assist in the further promotion of the project.

Communist Uprising Which Appeared at Point of Collapse Has Flickered Up Again in Germany

TO END EVIL CONDITIONS ASKS PRES. HARDING TO DEPORT O'CALLAGHAN

(Special to The Sun)
By H. B. HUNT
WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Harding administration announces that evil conditions at the Ellis Island immigration station are to be remedied immediately.
Exposure of the situation at the island, where inefficient and inhumane methods have existed, resulted in a conference between administration leaders and persons cognizant with the state of affairs.
Quick action was promised forthwith.
The announcement came from W. W. Husband, just appointed by President Harding as commissioner general of immigration. It followed a visit to Washington by Dr. David S. Cowland, health commissioner of New York city, who has charged Ellis Island is a hotbed of pestilence imperilling the entire nation.
Cowland went into detail on conditions with Husband, Senator W. P. Dillingham, chairman of the senate committee on immigration, and Dr. Chas. E. Sawyer, whom the president has designated director general of welfare.
Briefly the administration's promise is:
That the immigration organization at Ellis Island is to be tightened up.
That more speed is to be required in passing on the admission or exclusion of immigrants.
That everything possible be done to remove the confusion that has caused the detention of thousands of immigrants in unhealthy conditions at the island and aboard ship.
Husband and Sawyer assured Cowland that at any time present medical staffs at New York were unable to handle the examination of incoming immigrants, the force would immediately be increased. No need for any immediate increase exists, however, it was decided.
"The whole difficulty at Ellis Island," said Senator Dillingham, "has resulted from the disorganization of the immigration forces during the war. There was virtually no immigration during that period and the organization was permitted to go to pieces."
Following the armistice, immigration increased rapidly, but for some reason or other there was a shortage of immigration matters failed to lighten up the organization or institute any system in their handling of immigrants.
Ten years ago immigration authorities at New York handled with ease 4000 persons a day. Many a day they handled 5000, and did the job well.
"But for the past year the greatest number they have been able to care for in 24 hours has been about 800."
"The new administration" and the new commissioner general propose to put the organization on a basis that will expedite business and clean up any congestion that has been caused in the past by delaying judgment.
"We will work in full accord and co-operation with the health authorities of New York to see that adequate medical inspection and care is given all immigrants and that no added danger of contagion or disease results from long detentions and overcrowding."

THE TALE OF A MULE

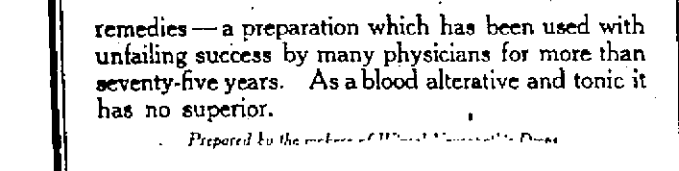

Seven-Year Court Fight Waged Over Him
CHICAGO, March 30.—Seven years ago J. H. Morris, a director of the People's Gas company, had a mule on his country estate near Lake Forest, a millionaire's suburb.
J. P. Doyle, retired business man, who lived on the adjoining estate, had 16 mules.
Morris' mule was thin and anemic. Doyle's mules were fat and contented. So the owners agreed that Morris' mule should "board" for a few months in Doyle's fertile pasture.
The mule came for the return. Morris picked out a mule. He said it was his. Doyle said it wasn't.
The two went to court over the mule, which was worth $25.
For seven years the case has dragged through the lower courts, being appealed time and time again by one or the other of the men. Meanwhile the mule died in disgust.
The case is now before the appellate court. It has cost the taxpayers an average of $250 a day while being thrashed out.

PROPHET FOR DRY POST

Man Who Presaged Harding's Nomination Stated for Prohibition Commissioner
HILLSBORO, O., March 26.—The Crusade, the first great temperance movement, originated here in 1873. On August 31, eight years later, Roy A. Hinman, was born here. Now he is slated to become national prohibition commissioner.
Hinman became editor of the Hillsboro Dispatch in 1910 and helped to reorganize the county republican organization.
He prophesied the coming of prohibition when the movement was very unpopular. He was county manager of the Dry Federation in three campaigns and in the last one rolled up the greatest comparative majority for the dry cause of any county in the state.
He was defeated for the congressional nomination in 1912 by Simeon D. Fess in a five-cornered fight, but ardently supported Fess in the campaign.
Hinman wrote an editorial in January, 1917, announcing that Harding would be the next republican nominee for president. It was widely published.
After Harding's nomination Hinman was referred to as "The Prophet of Hillsboro."

READY FOR TRIAL

Pastor Says He'll Face Mann Act Charge
By R. J. GIBBONS
PASSAIC, N. J., March 29.—With the date of his trial on a charge of violating the Mann act less than a month away, Rev. Cornelius H. Densel has come out of the seclusion in which he wrapped himself after being ousted by his church to make a public statement.
"I am going to see this thing through to the end like a man," he said. "Tell that to the world and say that I am sorry for what I did."
Densel, for 11 years pastor of the little First Netherlands church here, disappeared on November 12, 1920, with Miss Trina Hanenberg, 26-year-old member of his church choir. The two were found together in Buffalo a month later.
"I loved her," said the girl, who will be called upon by the government to testify against him next month. She was busy hanging clothes in the backyard of her home.
"To Have Wed"
"Domine Densel and I understood each other as no one ever can guess. We were to have been married. For many years he had written to me and told me of his love. Every day while we were in Buffalo I looked for the divorce papers to come that would make him a single man. But they did not come."
"I thought only of my great love. It blinded me to the injury I was inflicting on Densel's wife and his children. I realize it now. You cannot know how my heart aches, how ashamed and miserable I am."
Rev. Densel is 50, the father of ten children and grandfather of three. He speaks with a voice quiet and cultured.
"I did wrong," he says. "At the time I went away my vision was clouded. I did not see the harm and injury which would follow my act. Now that it is over I thank God for bringing me back to my senses. My wife has forgiven me. What more can a man wish? I will go to trial like a man."

FOUR MEN BURNED BY BALLOON EXPLOSION

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 30.—An officer and three men from the army balloon school at Ross Field, Arcadia, were seriously burned yesterday by an explosion of an army balloon in Coyote Pass, near the Midwick Country club, about eight miles from Los Angeles.
The explosion occurred just as a balloon from which Lieut. George E. Watts had jumped, reached the earth near a detail of men sent from Ross Field to bring in the gas. Officers expressed the opinion that a cigarette caused the explosion.

FIRST HOLD-UP IN HISTORY OF PROVINCE

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 30.—A hold-up, said to be the first in the history of Newfoundland, was reported here early yesterday when a young man returning from a post-lesson dance was robbed of $200, his watch and jewelry by two armed bandits. No arrest was reported by the police up to late last night.
It is now believed that Ash may be more extensively in eradicating mosquito larvae.

Veteran Telegrapher Tells How He Taught Edison To "Operate"

HE GAVE EDISON FIRST TELEGRAPH LESSON

The man who gave Thomas A. Edison his first lesson in telegraphy today manages a small telegraph office in Visalia, Cal. He is John Clarence Ward, 78, probably the oldest telegrapher in the United States, having been at the key for 40 years. In the Civil war he was attached to Gen. Grant's headquarters as an operator with the Union army. Coming by stage coach to California he was a pioneer operator in the west and, when the Atlantic cable to Europe failed, was a member of the party which, in 1866, constructed a cable across the Pacific, via the Aleutian Islands. His acquaintance with Edison started when Edison was a train boy.

(Special to The Sun)
VISALIA, Cal., March 30—In one of those fenced off, two-by-four telegraph offices that any town of moderate size tucks away in the rear of some store, there sits today, tugging away the remaining years of his life, the man who taught Thomas A. Edison how to operate a telegraph instrument.

He is John Clarence Ward, aged 78, and he is probably the oldest telegrapher in point of service in the United States. For 59 years he has followed the call of the code and, woven well in the chapters of his life story is the romance of the wire's pioneer days.

During the Civil war he was operator in the Union army attached to Gen. Grant's headquarters. Wounded when a cannon ball struck the building, he was sent west to help nurse the infant wire, going to San Francisco and Sacramento by stage coach.

Pacific Cable
The Atlantic cable having proved a failure, he was next enlisted in the romantic venture of stringing wires at the mouth of the Amur river, Siberia, when the Pacific cable was being laid by way of Asia, crossing the Behring sea at the Aleutian Islands. The Pacific enterprise was finally abandoned and a cable between America and Europe successfully laid. The Nevada silver rush next found him in its midst, and while others reaped fortunes, Ward ticked off the messages that spelled millions or ruin.

And thus, year by year, he played the role of soldier to service, finding his reward chiefly in the memory of those stirring activities that go to make a full life.

Recalling his first introduction to Edison, Ward relates: "Tom was the 'wire train boy' in those days. He was 16 years old and news butlered between Detroit and Sarnia, Ontario, on the Grand Trunk. I was stationed at St. Clemens, Mich. As soon as his train came in he would run over to the telegraph office and ask me to give him a lesson. I taught him to be an operator, and he was a darned good one."

BABY IS CHEATED BY WOMEN'S TRICK

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 30—A three-week-old baby is without name or home because of the maternal longing of a woman who is not its mother.

Mrs. George C. Carpenter wanted a baby. So did her husband, a physician. A girl was born to Mrs. Anna Feuchter, Mrs. Carpenter, who had been a trained nurse, attended her. Fifteen minutes later Mrs. Carpenter carried the baby away.

A birth certificate giving the name of "Virginia Ann Carpenter" was filed by a physician engaged by Dr. Carpenter in expiation of the birth of a child to his wife.

Then tongues wagged. Mrs. Carpenter confessed to her husband that the child was not theirs. It was left at St. Anthony's hospital.

Board Takes Baby
The Board of Children's Guardians took the baby.

Mrs. Feuchter wants her baby, but the board says she is not strong enough to work to support it. She also has three children by a previous marriage.

Edgar Feuchter, father of the child, has separated from his wife. "I want my baby back," says Mrs. Feuchter. "I want all of my children. I took in washing to support the others. I'll do enough more work to support this one."

Welcomes Exposure
"I surrendered it only because I thought it would go to a home where another woman and her husband would love it as their own and do more for it than I am able to do."

"But I'm glad now that the whole thing has been exposed so I can have my girl back. I'm going to call her Dorothy May and keep her always." The name of "Virginia Ann Carpenter" has been erased from the city records and attorneys have volunteered to help Mrs. Feuchter in her fight for the child.

Get New Atlas on Sale at
Sun Office

Do the soviet really menace western Europe? If you have secured a copy of the Peoples' Atlas, now being distributed at practically half price by The Sun, you are in a position to make a fairly accurate judgment for yourself on this vital question. One of the numerous maps which the volume contains shows the new Europe. As it has been divided since the peace conference. A great belt of Slavic countries, racially akin to the Russians but determined to protect their political integrity, are seen to act as a breakwater against the seething millions of the red dictatorship. Beginning at the south bank of the Gulf of Finland, there lie the following independent states: Estonia, Latvia, Courland, Lithuania, Poland and the Ukraine. This is but one of the multitude of enlightening uses to which this remarkable and up-to-the-minute atlas can be put. Americans of foreign birth will find it invaluable in showing the latest developments in the struggle for national autonomy which has been going on since the armistice. Those whose native land is Poland will be interested to trace the boundaries of that now liberated country. Lithuanians will find their newly freed motherland to the eastward. The Ukrainians, of whom Lowell has over a hundred, and of which a million reside in the United States, will see what a vast territory has been assigned to them by the great powers.

In brief, no one who pretends to keep in touch with the activities of the world can afford to be without this informative book. It was because of its unusual merit and its new features which supersede much of statistics given even in standard geographical and encyclopedias, that the Sun arranged to distribute it locally at a reduction which places it within the reach of everyone.

NOTHING TO DO BUT FRY!

All prepared—potatoes and everything. One can feeds three husky appetites. Far less expensive than eggs or meat. Fine during Lent.

What tastes better— than Gorton's Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes?

YOU know the kind—golden-brown, plump, sizzling with aroma—the kind that "down-east" folks start every one they give them to, a-hankering for.

But, much as you and the family like them, you don't serve fish-cakes often, do you? A lot of bother—that soaking and picking of the fish, the boiling and paring of the potatoes, and then the mixing, and frying.

But now—at last—you can have fish cakes often as you want! Gorton's Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes banish the bother!

You can have delicious, regular Gloucester fish cakes in only the time it takes you to open a can and fry what's in it.

But besides—

They're far more economical, the waste and labor considered. A can is enough for three people. Less expensive than any meal of meat or eggs.

Try them on your family tomorrow. Ask your grocer for a supply today. They're sold everywhere.

P.S.—A Lenten suggestion: A case (24 cans) of Gorton's Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes in your pantry will save you work and expense and will delight the whole family.

SEC. HUGHES REAFFIRMS OPEN DOOR IN CHINA

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The principle involved in the effort of the American group of bankers, in cooperation with bankers of France, Great Britain and Japan, to encourage American interests in the assistance of China through the International group known as the Chinese consortium, has the approval of the United States Secretary of State, Mr. Hughes, who on March 23, in a letter made public last night by the state department.

At the same time communications from 1913 to 1920, between the four powers discussing policies involved in the formation of the consortium, were made public simultaneously with their publication in London, Paris and Tokio.

In giving the approval of the United States administration to the declared purpose of the consortium, as entered into by the American bankers with the sanction of the Wilson administration, Sec. Hughes took occasion to declare for "equality of commercial and industrial opportunity" to individual enterprises of all nationalities in China, a statement which was regarded here as a reaffirmation of the open door policy of the open door.

FISHERMEN RESCUED Waist Deep in Water When Picked Up Off Big Rock

SWAMPSCOTT, March 30.—Walter Kelso, former state checker champion, and his son Lawrence Kelso, both fishermen, who had been sought during the night by coast guards when they failed to return from the fishing grounds, were picked up today off Big Rock, where they had passed the night in the freezing temperature.

Their motor boat had been damaged by seas after the engine came disabled and they were almost waist deep in water when found. Both men suffered from exposure, but physicians said recovery was probable.

DAUGHERTY TALKS ON PROHIBITION LAWS

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The nation will settle down in the next year or two, Attorney General Daugherty said today, to a more complete observance of prohibition laws and there will be less bootlegging. Prohibition enforcement is at present a hard job, he added, and he said that district attorneys are crowded with cases awaiting action.

He also offered freedom.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Legislation to solve the problem of prisoners confined for violation of the war time laws is now under consideration, Attorney General Daugherty said today. Senators Sterling and King and other members of the senate judiciary committee have asked Mr. Daugherty to confer with them and present his ideas on the question. A bill already has been drawn to cover the matter.

Mr. Daugherty said published reports that Eugene V. Debs, imprisoned at Atlanta for violation of the espionage act, had been offered his freedom during his recent conference with the attorney general here on promise to abandon the spread of Bolshevist doctrines, were without foundation.

The Debs case, Mr. Daugherty said, would be the subject of careful investigation on which an opinion would be transmitted to President Harding. Meanwhile, he added, he would not discuss it.

SEARCH FOR BODIES IN RUINS OF WAREHOUSE

CHICAGO, March 30.—Search for bodies continued today in the ruins of a warehouse destroyed by an explosion yesterday. Firemen and police sought evidence that might throw further light upon the cause of the disaster in which at least eight persons were killed and several score hurt.

Shirley T. Elgin, fire attorney, planned to question again today Edward and Isadore Schaffer, sons of one of the proprietors of a concern which city authorities believe, has been manufacturing and storing fire works in a building adjacent to the destroyed warehouse. City ordinances forbid the storage of fireworks within the city limits.

The police also were searching for W. Singer and Nathan Schaffer, partners in the concern.

Max Singer, a nephew of Schaffer's partner, was said to have told the police that ordinarily 10 men were used to load fireworks in a secret basement factory. He said that only four were at work yesterday and that all were killed.

ALLEGED AGENT FOR GERMAN MARKS HELD

BOSTON, March 30.—Edward A. Stitz of New York, alleged to have been an agent for German marks operations at New York, was held today for the police on charges of forgery and larceny. It is alleged that he forged a receipt for 10,000 German marks and 10,000 francs after Karl Neumann of Fall River had him $500, and that he stole a smaller sum from Alice G. Klencke of Fall River, in another transaction.

PREMIER TO RETIRE

HALIFAX, N.S., March 30.—George M. Campbell, premier of Nova Scotia since 1920, will retire from active politics owing to ill-health. It was announced today. He will retain the title of premier, but the duties of the office will be assumed by another member of the cabinet.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE Speaker at Billerica Meeting Says Massachusetts is Good Fruit Growing State

A well taken care of fruit crop in this state will yield more money than a similar crop in any other state of the union, for Massachusetts is the best fruit growing state in America, declared Leon F. Whitney of Hadley, Mass., and New York, in the course of his address at the farmers' institute held in Billerica Centre today. Mr. Whitney was the morning speaker at the institute, which was held in the Congregational church under the auspices of the Middlesex North Agricultural society.

There were about 50 men and women present at the forenoon session, which was presided over by Edward F. Dickinson, chairman of the institute committee, but at noon the attendance was more than doubled.

In opening his address, which was on "Problems and Promise of Fruit Growing in Massachusetts," Mr. Whitney said the farmers of this state should plant more small fruit than the farmers of New York, for the outlook in this section of the country is greater than in any other section. He told of a Massachusetts farmer, who last year sold apples in New York for $3 a barrel and cleared up about $3000 on a three-acre orchard. In his opinion, the speaker said, orchards were greater investments than savings banks and he cited the case of a farmer who owned a 20-year-old apple tree, which an electric company wished to purchase in order to erect a pole on its site. The company first offered $5 for the tree and then doubled the offer, but the farmer asked that $200 be placed in a savings bank in his name and then he would part with the tree, his reason being that the tree meant an investment of $200 to him. The company finally compromised and gave him $150 for the tree. Mr. Whitney informed his listeners that New York bankers have recently invested money in a 1500 acre orchard and they now feel they have a bigger investment on their hands than they ever had before.

Fruit growing is as long as you want to make it, stated Mr. Whitney, and then he told of a Massachusetts farmer, who keeps fruit the whole year round. This man has built a storage 125 feet long and has installed therein a system of ventilation, which keeps the fruit in good season all at times. "Massachusetts," he declared, "should be the leading fruit state in the union, because its conditions are ideal. It has a soil for the various kinds of fruit grown and the climate for fruit growing is excellent, and you can buy supplies for the orchard close to home and that is another thing in your favor."

In Mr. Whitney's opinion fruit growing helps to build character and is fascinating. He said it is well for the country to spring a scare on fruit growers occasionally, for it results in driving out of the business city folk. He said last year a great many fruit growers went out of business because of the enormous quantity of fruit on the market, and that helped the regular farmer. The surplus, he said, was due to the fact that the gates of export were closed and that the rate of exchange was very low. The speaker then spoke of the various ways of storing fruit and cited the case of a fruit-grower who last year had a big stock of Baldwin apples on hand. This man put out a circular, which read as follows: "Have a bite of the old-fashioned New England Baldwin apple you used to knock off the tree with a club while the old man was not looking," and the result was that although he was selling the fruit at $1.50 a bushel, he got rid of all he had. In closing, Mr. Whitney said fruit growing makes men happier and lengthens his days.

At noon recess was taken for dinner, which was served in the vestry of the church by the Ladies Aid society and at the close of the dinner there were songs and readings by Miss Lella Bull and Miss Evelyn Spaulding.

The afternoon program included the reading of a poem entitled "The Boy of Tomorrow," followed by a discussion of an essay by Arthur D. Dean, chief of the division of trade schools in the New York state educational department.

BANQUET AND DANCE

The Y.M.C.A. will tender a testimonial banquet to the young women who took part in the organization's recent minstrel show this evening in the institute rooms in Stackpole street. The banquet will be followed by dancing.

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance has been proposed in Municipal Council, to wit:

An Ordinance—
To provide for the annual payment to the department of public works of the City of Lowell for the consumption of water in and upon the parks and playgrounds of the City of Lowell and for water used and for the maintenance of hydrant service for the protection of property from fire hazard in said city.

Be it ordained by the Municipal Council of the City of Lowell, as follows:

SECTION I. For the purpose of providing full payment to the Water Works department of the City of Lowell for the yearly consumption of water in and upon the public parks and playgrounds of the City of Lowell for all purposes there shall be appropriated annually by the Municipal Council the sum of $10,000 for the year 1921 and $10,000 for the year 1922 and the said sum shall be credited to the Water Works department of the City of Lowell for the maintenance thereof.

SECTION II. For the purpose of providing full payment for the early maintenance of hydrant service and for the yearly consumption of water used for the protection of property from fire hazard in and upon the city there shall be appropriated by the Municipal Council annually a sum of money equal to ten dollars ($10.00) for each hydrant in use and said sum of money shall be credited to the department of water works for the maintenance thereof.

SECTION III. In order to provide for the payment of said appropriation the department of public works shall be the duty of the Municipal Council to instruct the Board of Assessors to tax the amount of money necessary for said appropriations.

SECTION IV. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION V. This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage.

By order of the Municipal Council,
J. F. FLYNN, Clerk.

LOWELL BOSTON COLLEGE CLUB DANCE

Plans have been completed for the annual dancing party of the Lowell Boston College club to be held this evening in Associate hall. The committee in charge has arranged many interesting and novel features for the occasion and an exceptionally large attendance is expected. The program will open by a concert by one of the city's leading orchestras and dancing will continue until the early morning hours. Students of the college from all parts of the state are expected to attend.

to her fall or leap from the car. Emma Martin, 15, another girl who was in the machine, alleges that the Flynn girl jumped to the street, when the defendants refused to halt the automobile in response to her pleas. The presence at the superior court session in Cambridge of several necessary witnesses for the state caused the continuance today. Final plans for a hearing Saturday morning have been made, and counsel have expressed themselves as in readiness for a trial of the case, which has excited extraordinary interest. Laffame and Richard both spent a substantial period in jail, after the alleged abduction, as it was some time before surety could be obtained for them in sufficient amount. When Judge Wright first fixed their bonds at $10,000 each, attempts were made to free them on bail, but the effort was not

Immediately successful. Later, when it was believed that the Flynn girl was out of danger, it was sought to have the bail reduced, but the court declined to accede to this proposal, stating that the seriousness of the offence warranted a continuance of high bond, whatever the condition of Mary Flynn.

Breaking and Entering

The case of Norma Hickory, 19, who pleaded guilty yesterday to breaking and entering in the night time the store of Charles Thomas, with larceny of cigars, chewing gum, tobacco, and cigars, of a total value of more than $20, came up today on continuance. The youth was held for the superior court in bonds of $500. No relatives or friends were at court to furnish bail, and the defendant was ordered committed.

Other Offenders

John Nazoscha, charged with larceny of $500 from Antoni Bednarz, had his case continued this morning to June 20. In the interim, he has been ordered by Judge Enright to make restitution. Bednarz testified that the defendant has returned only $38 of the five hundred alleged to have been taken. "Well, he'll pay the remainder in three months or go to jail," was the comment of the court.

The case of Ernest A. Hamell, arrested on larceny charges by Inspector John A. Walsh, was continued to tomorrow morning. Bonds of $300 being set. It is alleged that the defendant stole $75, the property of Carol Byrnowsky. On the complaint, Hamell is specified not only by his own name but also by the alias of "Napoleon." The alleged larceny is said to have taken place January 8.

The case of William Brennan, charged with illegal keeping of liquor, will be heard April 6. The case first came before the police court March 23, when it was continued to today. Further continuance was the result of the absence of members of the liquor squad, witnesses in the matter, and who were this morning at the superior court at Cambridge.

Harry Austin, 61 years old and lacking one arm, was sent to the state farm on vagrancy charges preferred 23, when it was continued to today. Austin walked into police headquarters and announced to Deputy Towney that he desired to be arrested. He told the officers that he had no home, no job, and needed food and shelter.

Thrift Coal Club

Our coal club will start Friday, April 1st. We expect to make it a greater success than ever. This year it will be a great boon to many people to be able to pay for their coal supply in weekly payments. It is an easy way to get the coal bill all paid up, during the Spring and Summer months.

Save a little each week and deposit it at our office and we will give you a little booklet showing the payments. The more you pay in at the beginning the more you save on your coal, and you are sure of a supply when you need it.

Whatever is the price each month that will be the price to members of our club based on the amount paid in so that the average will probably be lower than the price of coal in the fall.

It's a good thrift plan. Try it, and we think you will be pleased. Come in and talk it over. Our new coal prices for Lowell will be announced soon and we think we will do a little better than the surrounding cities, considering the freight costs to the different points.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"FLIPPETY-FLAP DOES A FAVOR"

THE TWINS AND FLIPPETY-FLAP JUMPED INTO LUMPY'S MOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. Lion and Lumpy and Lulu stared in astonishment when Flippety-Flap shuffled his way into their cave, followed bravely by Nancy and Nick. Lumpy was so astonished that he almost forgot his toothache. "May I be of service?" asked the fairman politely. "Service?" roared Mr. Lion. "Why you aren't big enough to make a satisfactory bite, and that's the only service I can think of that you might do us. I'm longing for a piece of good old circus beefsteak. And you're not a beef, are you? No, you're not, you're shaking his mane at the Twins." Before Flippety-Flap had time to answer, Lumpy began to scream again. "My tooth! Oh, my tooth!" And he opened his mouth like a yawning cave. Flippety-Flap opened a little flap in one of his Magic Shoes and took out a small brown bottle. Then opening the other shoe, he took out a piece of white cotton. "Cotton me," said he to Lumpy. "Just shall have to get inside your mouth if I am to stop the aching. Will you kindly hold it open?" "No, sirree!" declared Mr. Lion promptly, stepping in between. "Nothing of the kind! How do we know that you are not poison, and if our son should accidentally swallow you, he'd die!" "Help, oh, help!" cried Lumpy hopping around on a hind foot. "I am dying right now!" "Mrs. Lion, have a paw on her husband's mane," "Lion" said she. "You'd better let him. Otherwise I see no sleep for us."

"All right," agreed Leo grudgingly. The Twins and Flippety-Flap jumped into Lumpy's mouth at once. (To Be Continued.) (Copyright, 1921 The Lowell Sun.)

Mulqueen Says Tanlac Restored His Health After He Had Suffered Seven Long Years

"If my word will do any good, I am more than glad to tell of my experience with Tanlac, for I consider it a medicine that can't be equaled," said James Mulqueen, 247 Fulton st., Lowell, recently. "I had a stubborn case of stomach trouble that had been bothering me for seven years and at times I had severe attacks of indigestion that simply knocked me out. Why, the pains in my stomach nearly drew me double and I would have to quit work and go home. One formed something terrible and I would get so smothered it seemed like I was going to lose my breath altogether. I had awful night sweats and could not sleep to do any good, and of mornings was so weak and played out I never felt equal to my work. I was bothered with constipation a great deal and often had attacks of biliousness. All through the day I felt dead tired, and I had just thought sometimes I would give clean out, I was so weak. "Well, Tanlac couldn't have fit my case better if it had been made especially for it, and it didn't take but three bottles to fix me up in great shape. I haven't had one of those attacks since and my appetite is the best kind. "I don't think I could have been so happy, and I rest well and simply feel like a new man now. Tanlac is one medicine that will do what they say it will. "Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Bros. Co., Billerica, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

MUST HAVE ASSISTANCE

Maj. Jeyes Tells School Committee of Physical Work in Schools

Major Walter R. Jeyes, physical director for the elementary schools, told the members of the school committee at their regular meeting last evening that he must have two more assistants if he is to carry on his work systematically and efficiently and take care not only of the physical instruction of the children in the grammar schools, but also the accident prevention work which has been added to his duties. The committee did not accept his recommendations, but assured him that they would be considered at the next meeting after the board had time to go over the matter. Chairman Delaney and Mr. Donnelly were in favor of giving the major his assistants at once, but the three other members were opposed.

Major Jeyes explained in detail the duties of his position. At the present time he has but one assistant, Miss Nellie D. Horner. He recommended that Charles E. Maguire and Frederick Desmond be appointed assistants. He has to take care of the pupils in 25 classrooms spread over some 12 or 13 schools. With the advent of the summer season, the boys are clamoring for baseball and a league is under process of formation. Eleven or 12 teams have already been entered and more are expected. This means much work after school hours, Major Jeyes said. Both he and his assistant own machines and use them in their work, he added.

Mr. Markham cross-examined the major at length and finally Mr. Donnelly moved that the two assistants whom Major Jeyes had named be elected. Messrs. Bergeron, Markham and Warner voted against the motion, pleading that they wished more time to consider the matter. Chairman Delaney said that he had been waiting on before the meeting by a committee of parochial school boys asking that they be allowed to enter the baseball league. The matter will be decided later.

Mr. Delaney also brought up the matter of establishing a summer camp for boys over 12 years of age. He explained the project at length and the committee empowered him together with the superintendent and physical and military directors to go into the matter further and make a report at the next meeting. George H. Russell was given permission to take pictures in the high and grammar schools. The board voted to instruct the city treasurer to abate a bill levied against the town of Tyngsboro for tuition given William Ferguson in the Lowell high school. It was explained that Ferguson was really a resident of this city and had only a summer home in Tyngsboro. At the request of Francis Rowley of the Humann society, permission was given to have an agent of that society give talks in the schools the week of April 11.

The Community Service was granted permission to circulate clean-up pledges in the schools.

On the recommendation of the superintendent of schools, it was voted to have all the evening schools close not later than April 8, with the exception of the Americanization classes in the Green school which are to continue as long as the attendance warrants.

Several applications to teach were read and placed on file.

The Massachusetts committee for the French restoration fund asked permission to place contribution boxes in the local schools in an effort to secure funds for the restoration of the French schools. Contributions are to be wholly voluntary. Permission was granted.

On the recommendation of the director of the Vocational school, Miss Agnes L. Liston was appointed a temporary teacher and it was voted to rectify an error in the amount of salary which she has been receiving as a substitute.

Dr. Emma Y. Slaughter was elected a permanent school physician on motion of Mr. Warner.

Chairman Delaney said that he had recently inspected the new addition to the Morey school and had received assurance that it would be ready for occupancy next September, when a junior high school is to be established there. During the inspection, he said, Principal Bennett had pointed out that one part of the school was wired for telephones and the other was not. By remedying the defect now, before the new portion is completed, much expense can be saved. The board voted to instruct the commissioner of public property to wire the entire building, providing it can be done without breaking the contract for the erection of the addition.

There was a prolonged discussion as to the need of another man to repair furniture in the schools. Mr. Bergeron wanted information on the subject. He understood that another man had been asked for four years ago but was never appointed.

Business Agent Henry L. Williams said that one man had been appointed three years ago. There was no question but that another man could be used. He finished his remarks along takes a lot of time. Much money has been saved by having a repairman, Mr. Williams said.

Chairman Delaney said that the janitors also assist in this work. The proper way to find out if another man or several more men were needed, would be to ascertain just what it is costing the department for repairs.

At this point, Mr. Bergeron accused the chairman of "stalling" on the question and Mr. Delaney vigorously denied the allegation. He said no man had been asked for since he was a member of the committee and that the only way to find out whether another is needed is to get down to the finances of the repair department.

The business agent was instructed to procure the cost of repairs and submit it to the board at a later date.

Mr. Bergeron brought up the matter of the examination of bills. The committee is spending in the neighborhood of a million dollars this year, he said, but in the three months that

International Conference of Red Cross

GENEVA, March 30.—Means of limiting blockades and restricting the use of asphyxiating gases and other measures of war that might be considered inhuman, will be discussed by the international conference of the Red Cross which began a three day meeting today. The training of the medical and health workers in peace and in war also will be considered. French and Belgian delegates will not take part in the conference because of the presence of German and Austrian representatives, who are expected to protest against the conduct of the allies during the war. Dr. Livingstone Ferrand and Lieut. Col. Robert E. Olds, Red Cross commissioner for Europe, are among the American delegates.

he has been a member of the committee he has not seen a single bill.

Mr. Delaney explained that last year's committee had authorized the chairman to act as a finance committee. He approved bills and they are on file at all times in the business agent's office. Mr. Bergeron moved that all the bills contracted by the department come before the entire committee in open meeting and it was so voted.

NOW—YOU CAN MAKE YOUR OWN PRETTY FROCKS—SUCCESSFULLY!

Before—you've probably joyously started a pale pink Organdie and stopped right in the middle because no matter how you tried, the sleeve wouldn't go right. Or perhaps, when you did finish, your long mirror would not satisfy you with a picture of chic and charm.

With the New McCall Pattern, sewing should be very much easier for the beginner. Instead of the confusing circles and perforations of the old style pattern, it has printed words to tell you how and where to cut. To guide you in putting parts together are notches numbered to correspond, so that a pale pink Organdie sleeve, in this case, would have to go right.

This new kind of Pattern is also very much more accurate and offers you a foundation, with the style-line right. (For it's choosing the style-right Pattern that banishes the "home-made look.")

You may safely make a Frock of any of our fresh, crispy Spring cottons or pretty Silks with the New McCall Patterns.

KELLEY SHOWED CLASS IN BEATING DOYLE

Harlem, Eddie Kelley, who defeated Paul Doyle at Worcester in a fast 10-round bout on Monday night, rested yesterday and today, and his manager, Joe Woodman, says he will be in perfect condition when he steps into the ring at the Crescent A. A. tomorrow night to meet Sailor Darden in the main bout of ten rounds.

An indication of Kelley's class is contained in the announcement of his victory over Paul Doyle, who has long been recognized as one of the leading welterweights in the country. Kelley won from Doyle via the knockout in two rounds. Doyle advanced the claim that he fell a victim of a lucky wallow and sought a return meeting. On Monday night, however, Kelley outboxed and out-fought the clever Paul and clearly demonstrated his superiority over the Boston welter.

In the opening round, Kelley met one of the classiest boys in the game, Darden is under the management of B. H. Benton (Bob Hoy), one of the country's best promoters. Kelley brought out such noted boxers as George Dixon, Jack McAuliffe, world champion, and also took an active part in the success of the Garden and many others. He says Darden is a revelation and points to his recent victory with the famous Pauline for Gans to substantiate his claim. Darden can make the light-weight limit, but he is forced to fight on welterweights and must weigh in at 145 pounds. He is a real 100 per cent fighter, says his manager who adds: "He is not a dancing master, but a pure, genuine fighter, and in the fashion of the once great Kid Lavin."

Young Avila of Lowell will appear in one of the most important bouts in the country, when he meets Jack McCarthy of Woburn in a ten-round number. This bout is creating considerable interest. Avila can win over the blacksmith's son, McCarthy, and the blacksmith's son, McCarthy, of Lowell will meet R. O. Valien of Boston, the boy who two weeks ago was awarded a decision over Trip Quinn.

HOUSTON WINS PRIZES IN BOWLING TOURNEY

Houston got away to a great start in the big city bowling tournament, won the prize for the high single and the high three string total in the first day of the tourney and has set up some fine marks for the other local players to beat.

Houston's three string total was 354. Panton came second with 361 and Dr. Horne was third with 315.

Dr. Horne was the only one to cop the high total in the two men competition with 650 while Barrett and Hayden took second money with 625.

Whitehead, Panton and Barrett were top notches in three men bowling, with a total of 974, while Houston, Barrett and Hayden were second with 951. Not far behind came Houston, Horne and Curtis, who made a total of 951, while Barrett and Whitehead were third with 948.

Houston made the high single string figure Monday, 135, and he also excelled in the picked three-string total at 358.

The handicaps were published in the Sun Monday and these figures will be adhered to throughout the tournament, thus giving all bowlers an equal chance of a part of the $1000 prize money.

BELGIAN BILLIARDIST BREAKS RECORDS

NEW YORK, March 30.—Edouard Horneaux, Belgian billiardist, shattered two world records at 13.1 ball line in a match game with Albert Cutler, the eastern champion.

A new high run record in single ball pool was made by Horneaux, who had a record breaking high average of 57.17. The previous record for high run was 54, established in 1897 by Frank Ives. In the same match Ives, with the older Jake Schaeffer, Ives established the previous high average of 51.14.

OXFORD-CAMBRIDGE BOAT RACE
LONDON, March 30.—Thousands gathered along the banks of the Thames from Putney to Twickenham today to witness the annual Oxford-Cambridge boat race. All vantage points were crowded with enthusiasts carrying flags and banners of Oxford, or the light blue of Cambridge.

Both the crews were pronounced in the best of condition and a close race was expected.

THE PROMOTION OF AMATEUR ATHLETICS

The Sacred Heart club is one of the organizations of Lowell that is certainly doing its share towards the promotion of clean sports. The club, which is young as clubs go, has been in existence for about four years, during which time its members have contributed largely to the development of sports in this city. Recently they have announced their intention of entering a basketball team in the Lowell-Suburban league. The team has already secured the service of some of the best men in the vicinity and are prepared to try out the various candidates before long.

During the past few months an excellent aggregation has represented the club in the Catholic bowling league and have acquitted themselves splendidly under the management of Jack Barrett.

The Sacred Heart Five has maintained the prestige established many years ago as victors in the basketball world. Of all the games played this year they have lost only one game and tied another with the C.Y.M.A.s on the latter's own territory.

The team is made up entirely by members of the club under the direction of Jim Keenan and managed by Billie Maguire.

The main arts, boxing and wrestling, have not by any means been overlooked, although rather late in getting started. Some splendid exhibitions have been put on. A boxing class has been formed and bids fair to maintain a great deal of interest among the members. The class is instructed by several of the best boys in the city, and promises to produce in the not far distant future a few clever lads in the fist art.

The class is preparing to produce a series of both boxing and wrestling matches the latter part of the month.

Some of the local professionals are contemplating making the club their training quarters and no doubt many of the boys in the class will benefit by observation of the way these boys prepare for their bouts.

Along with the boxing matches will be produced at least two good wrestling exhibitions. These shows of athletic prowess will be given more attention next fall, as some of the boys in the vicinity have ambitions to throw both "Strangler Lewis and Gardiner."

The boxing is being directed under the direction of Jim Walsh, and the wrestling is directed by Gus Crehan. Both men are qualified to handle their respective lines and are showing their keen personal interest in the development of the boys of the club.

Admission to the boxing and wrestling exhibitions as well as membership in the class is open only to those holding athletic memberships. Memberships may be obtained by applying to any members of the club or through the secretary of the athletic committee, P. A. Walsh.

The club will be interested in hearing from the various clubs of the city with regard to holding an outdoor athletic carnival, May 30th.

This project would create a great deal of interest in sporting circles and help to add to Lowell's prestige in the sport world.

The officers of the Sacred Heart club are: President, Douglas Smith; vice president, James Keenan; secretary, Charles Foley; financial secretary, James Keenan.

The promotion and development of amateur sports are under the personal direction of the club's manager, James Keenan, basketball; William Maguire, baseball; Gus Crehan, wrestling; P. A. Walsh, boxing.

The club is growing rapidly in membership and hopes to reach the five hundred mark in a short while. The young men are under the spiritual direction of Rev. William F. Mahan.

Also enabling the club to enter in O.M.I. who has contributed greatly to the success of the club as it has attained, and a great source of inspiration to the boys.

WORLD'S RECORD

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal.
March 30.—Charles Paddock, University of Southern California sprinter, tied the world's record of 9.3-5 seconds in the 100-yard dash for the second time in a week in a track meet yesterday between his college and Stanford university.

Paddock ran the 220-yard dash in 21 seconds and the 440-yard dash in 54 seconds for the event by one-fifth of a second.

Saturday at Berkeley he ran the distance in 20.4-5 seconds in a meet with the University of California. If Saturday's record is not allowed by the A.A.U., said Dr. Frank Angell, head timer, yesterday's should be, as there was no wind. Three watches caught Paddock yesterday at 21 seconds and two at 20.3-5.

In the 100-yard dash last Saturday, Paddock made the same time he did yesterday. The former record in this event 9.3-5 seconds, made first by Dan J. Kelly, at Spokane, Wash., in 1906, has since been equaled by H. P. Drew and Robert Cloughen.

RED SOX ROOKIE LEADS IN ATTACK

BOSTON, March 30.—Batting strength was developed in unexpected places by both the Red Sox and the Braves in training camp games that were described in dispatches today. Pittsburgh's recent infielder from London, Ont., was high batsman in the game between the Red Sox and Memphis at the latter city, getting three hits, one a double, out of the eight which Boston made. The locals lost the game, 6 to 2 through the wildness of Best, a left-handed pitcher from Anaheim, Cal. Everett Scott took charge of the team as captain yesterday.

John L. Sullivan was the heavy hitter uncovered by the Braves. In a game between regulars and youngsters at Greenville, he cracked out two triples and two doubles. Southworth poked a homer over the right center field fence.

SHAVLIN GETS AWARD
BOSTON, March 30.—Eddie Shavlin of Roxbury and Dartmouth college was declared the winner of Jack Perry's prize of $1000 after they had fought 10 rugged rounds at the Armory A. A. last night.

As expected, Perry proved a hard customer and made such a good showing that many thought he earned the decision.

Shavlin was entitled to the award, however, for he outscored the visitor in most of the rounds. It was the inside work that Shavlin did and which these fans not near the ringside could not see that helped him to land a winner.

Local Veteran Anglers Presage An Excellent Fishing Season

All the signs and portents point to a very good fishing season, say the local veteran anglers. In spite of the cold wave, there are other elements entering into the matter which warrant optimism. It was learned today from authorities in the art of Isaac Walton. "The brooks are low," declared H. L. Gonzales, local fisherman, "but the water is clear and the fish are early fishing." He named the various species of the fishy tribe which can be hooked at the present time. White and yellow perch are among these. Of course, explained Mr. Gonzales, fish are like the other things which come under the domain of nature; their activity and flourishing is retarded by wintry blasts and nipping air. The watery race simply declines to bite when the mercury is sinking near the bottom of the tube. Lowell anglers, however, are so sure that this is going to be an early and fat season that, according to the reports of veteran anglers, they are purchasing steadily in anticipation of good and satisfactory sport. This, moreover, is in spite of some rather discouraging circumstances. For Mr. Gonzales states that "there are so many laws now regulating the fishermen's conduct, that he needs to have an encyclopedia at his elbow when he goes to pursue the sport." The joy is being taken out of fishing, as well as hunting, by these perplexing and multifarious restrictions, is the opinion of the local anglers, who want to know where their senators and representatives of this district are. They haven't stepped in and given the assistance that is desired, he declares. But sports are also enabling the party. It is asserted that the fish are now looking for a somewhat better time than they have had before the open season comes in, it is stated. Fishing suffers from the same class of cheaters, as they may be aptly termed. "There are so many laws," says Mr. Gonzales, "that one doesn't know whether to go fishing or to stay home. There is not only a lot of laws, but they are changing continually with dizzying speed." He declares that an information bureau is needed to find out what can be done and what to expect. Mr. Gonzales closed his statement by warning anglers to be on their toes.

A MESS OF BROOK TROUT

In the spring you can drift a succulent crawler a long ways down the stream. There is much argument whether to fish up or down.

While most fish like the things we do—nice breakfast, a mild-day snore, a hearty 6 o'clock dinner—the brook trout is different. He will transact business at all hours. He will take a worm when it is so dark you can't see sky above or water below. Can't you smell those trout a-fryin'?

On another occasion Speaker and a crowd of friends went fishing over at Middle River Island, Lake Erie. The wind made it impossible for them to take their boats out.

One of the party caught a small green frog, baited his hook, cast out in a quiet cove off the lee shore, and in a minute his friends the surprise of their lives.

TRIS SPEAKER WITH A PRIZE CATCH

The fish were biting as fast as hooks could be baited and dropped over a board.

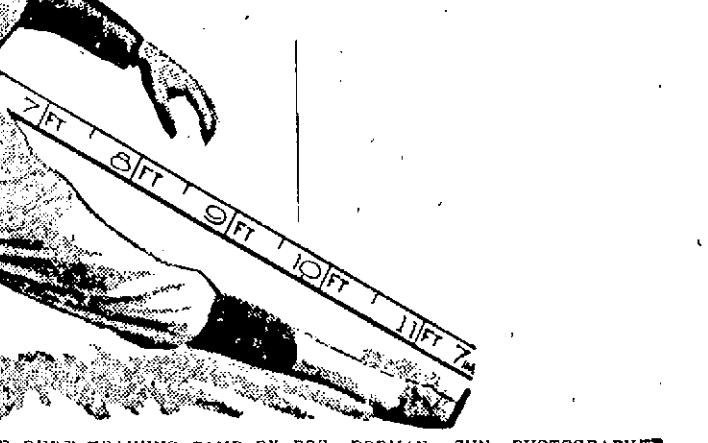

In the party was Steve O'Neil, Indian catcher. His boat was not far away from Speaker. "Two bits on the next fish," yelled Steve to Speaker.

"You're on," rejoined the manager. O'Neil finally caught a small green frog, baited his hook, cast out in a quiet cove off the lee shore, and in a minute his friends the surprise of their lives.

UMPIRES CANNOT IMPOSE FINES ON PLAYERS

They may recommend fines to the league head, however, and will retain the privilege of banishing a player from the field if deemed necessary.

REMOVES BULLET FROM BRAIN OF INSANE MAN

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 30.—One of the rarest operations known to medical science, that of removing a bullet from a man's brain, was successfully accomplished yesterday in the Sing Sing prison hospital. A remarkable feature of the operation was that Dr. William L. Chapman of Brooklyn, who performed the work, is himself an invalid and was wheeled to the operating table in a chair, propped in which he worked on the patient.

The operation was an attempt to cure insanity in Roman Leonowicki, a prisoner there. Two bullets were removed, one of which was imbedded almost two inches in the brain, the other being lodged behind the right ear.

The presence of two bullets in the patient's brain was disclosed by X-ray examination, the one removed today being imbedded almost two inches, while the other was lodged behind the right ear. When the first bullet had been extracted, Dr. Chapman endeavored to remove the other, which, however, was found to be lodged solidly in the tissue. After a consultation of several physicians in attendance, it was decided not to touch it. The incision then was closed and the patient regained consciousness. The full operation lasted one hour. A piece of skull about the size of a silver dollar first was removed and into the aperture Dr. Chapman inserted his index finger gently and slowly, being extremely careful not to rupture the brain tissue or draw blood. Deeper and deeper, with almost painful slowness, the surgeon probed until his finger came in contact with the bullet. The move delicate task of working the bullet upward now confronted the invalid surgeon, but he slowly worked his finger around and under the object, gradually forcing it through the tissue until it touched the side of the skull. Then, half lifting, half pushing it along the wall, the bullet reached the opening where Dr. Chapman had inserted his finger.

With the same caution exercised from the beginning, the surgeon withdrew his finger, revealing the bullet on the top of the tissue of the brain. With a pair of forceps, he seized the missile and withdrew it from the man's head. Thirty minutes had elapsed when Dr. Chapman made another incision to remove the second bullet.

This was found in less time than the first and was coated with tissue which would have had to be broken to remove it. To do so presented the danger, not of risking the patient's life. It was said, but the after-effect of the scar tissue on the brain would be worse perhaps, than if the bullet had remained in the brain. Dr. Chapman then agreed to leave it where it was.

The patient was kept under watch of several surgeons until he was considered virtually out of danger.

ATTEMPT TO DEFEAT GOVERNMENT FAILS

OTTAWA, March 30.—Another effort by the opposition to bring about the defeat of the government of Premier Meighen failed last night when the house of commons voted down, 53 to 9, a motion presented by W. L. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, asking for immediate bye-elections to fill six vacancies in the house.

The former element in the house relied upon to support the opposition against the government, split on the issue, eight voting for the King motion and three against it.

But the native said there weren't any muskies in the lake.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
WANT MORE MONEY

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, March 30.—That the expense of operating the activities of the county of Middlesex for the current year will be more than $100,000 in excess of last year's expenditures is the estimate of the county commissioners, submitted to the legislature.

This year the board asks permission to expend, and to assess the cities and towns in the county for, $1,415,000; last year's expenditures totaled $1,272,163.50.

In only two items do the county commissioners look for a decrease this year. One of these, maintenance of the training school, they estimate will cost $34,000, as compared with $35,051.50 expended last year. The reason for this is that there is a smaller number of pupils in the school.

The other reduced expenditure is in the item of reduction of the county debt, for which only $23,000 is to be expended this year. Last year $14,750 was cut off the debt. The bonds which are to be paid this year are a part of the issues for the Watertown bridge and the Cambridge registry.

One item, the expense of law libraries, remains the same as last year—$7000. For every other activity the commissioners ask permission to expend more than last year.

Interest on county debt they estimate will require payments aggregating $40,000, compared with $30,233.04. Their explanation of this increase is that there are more loans, and higher rates of interest are exacted.

For salaries of county officers and assistants, all of which are fixed by law, the commissioners intend to expend $65,000. Last year $62,359.42 was needed, and this was in excess of the appropriation.

For clerical assistance in the county offices a total of $164,000 is asked, last year's figure having been $145,416.05. This increase is due, the commissioners say, to increased business in the registry of deeds and to contemplated salary increases.

Salaries and expenses in the district and police courts are expected to require expenditures of $165,000, as compared with $159,535.04 last year. The explanation given by the commissioners for this increase is that an additional probation officer has been appointed at Lowell; that the rental of some of the court rooms has been advanced; and that the 1920 census increases the salaries of certain judges, whose salaries are based upon the population within their jurisdictions.

The salaries of jailers, postmasters and assistants, and support of prisoners in jails and house of correction cost last year $130,944.24, and this year the commissioners estimate that $135,000 will be needed. Although the Lowell jail has been closed, the commissioner's point out, the population of the Cambridge jail has increased, and may cause increased expenses.

Criminal costs in the superior court are estimated at $20,000, a slight increase over the $17,377.14 expended last year. This increase is recommended by the district attorney, the commissioners say. Last year's appropriation for this purpose was exceeded by $700. The courts sit longer and the jurors are paid more.

Similar reasons are given for a requested increase from $110,314.45 to $115,000 for civil expenses in the supreme and superior courts.

For trial justice, expenditures of $1500 are requested, last year's figure having been $775.12. For their own traveling expenses the commissioners ask $1500, having expended $1,243.73 last year.

Medical examiners, inquests and care of the insane call for expenditures of $23,000, the commissioners estimate, as compared with $21,781.35 last year. For auditors, matters and referees they ask permission to expend $18,000, as compared with $16,777.92 expended last year.

WILL DISCUSS
FARE REDUCTION

The trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts St. Ry. Co. have agreed to hold a conference with the members of the local street railway home rule committee for the purpose of discussing a fare reduction in the Lowell district beginning May 2. John B. Curtin, secretary of the committee, announced this noon.

At the last meeting of the committee it was voted to request the trustees to confer with the committee with the object in view of ascertaining just how great a reduction in fares is contemplated in Lowell when the reduction in wages for employees goes into effect in May. Several members of the committee favored requesting a Avenue fare for Lowell and the trustees will be asked to show why such a fare will not be feasible after wages are reduced 20 per cent.

As a result of the receipt of a letter from the trustees indicating their willingness to confer with the local committee on this matter, Chairman John E. Sullivan has called a special meeting of the home rule committee for next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the mayor's reception room at city hall.

At that time the place of the conference and the date on which it is to be held will be decided and some program of argument to be presented the trustees will undoubtedly be outlined.

WAR RESPONSIBILITY

Bulgarian Ministry Blamed for Bulgaria's Entrance Against the Entente

SOFIA, March 30.—Accusations against the Bulgarian ministry headed by Vassil Radoslavoff charging it with responsibility for Bulgaria's entrance into the war against the entente, were approved by parliament here yesterday, two-thirds of the members voting in the affirmative. Members of the ministry were held for trial before the high court.

All the accused men with the exception of M. Radoslavoff who has fled from Bulgaria, have been imprisoned for the past year. Immediate judgment by the court was directed by parliament.

URGE HARDING TO
NAME LOWELL MAN

WASHINGTON, March 30.—President Harding was urged by a delegation representing 11 of the independent organizations of railroad employees and subordinate officials that visited the White House, to appoint a man from one of their organizations to the railroad labor board.

Three names suggested by the delegation were those of Wilbur L. Hearsh, Chicago, grand secretary of the order of railway station agents; Edward McNamara, Lowell, Mass., senior grand vice-president of the Brotherhood of Station Employees, and James H. Looney, Worcester, Mass., of the American Railway Expressmen.

60 Shots Fired in Reprisal

BARCELONA, Spain, March 30.—In reprisal for a previous attack the Mataro group of syndicalists in Badalona, a suburb, today fired 60 revolver shots at a group of free syndicalists who were leaving a club. One free syndicalist was killed. The assailants who were masked, escaped.

Fireman On Destroyer Severely Burned

BOSTON, March 30.—The destroyer Casson rushed 50 miles to port at top speed today to bring Ernest Goodenough of Lynn, a fireman, to the naval hospital for treatment. He was severely burned this morning when an evaporator burst while the destroyer was adjusting compasses off Cape Cod. His condition was said to be critical. No other member of the crew was hurt.

Bank Watchman Shot and Killed

DES MOINES, Ia., March 30.—J. K. Myers, night watchman at the bank at Stuart, near here, was shot and killed by five bandits last night. The bandits who were reported to have obtained only $10, escaped in an automobile to Des Moines where they abandoned their machine.

Passholders Must Give Up Seats

BOSTON, March 30.—Passholders on the Boston & Maine railroad must stand if paying passengers cannot be seated. General Manager B. R. Pollock has issued to all conductors an order that this rule be enforced strictly. Should the seated holder of a pass fail to rise, voluntarily, conductors are instructed to ask them to do so, quietly and unobtrusively. Failure to comply then will be made the subject of report to headquarters, which will take disciplinary action.

DEATHS

ROSS—Dr. Percy H. Ross for a number of years a resident of this city, died Monday at his home in Portsmouth, N. H., aged 48 years. He leaves his wife, Ella May Ross; one daughter, Mrs. C. D. Burke of this city and two grandchildren. The body will be brought to the rooms of Undertaker W. Herbert Blake.

Do You Weigh As

Much As You Ought?

How Many Thin People

Build Themselves Up to

Normal Standards

Do you realize that unless your weight is up to normal you are actually in danger of serious illness? No better proof of this is needed than the strict rules of the insurance companies which forbid the issuance of insurance to those who are underweight.

Many thin people find that they gain weight steadily while taking Father John's Medicine. The pure food tonic elements which are contained in this old-fashioned prescription strengthen and build up those who are thin, weak and run down. It is real food and in a form which even the weakened system can easily take up.—Adv.

HEAD OF HAVILAND CHINA FIRM DEAD

LIMOGES, France, March 30.—C. E. Haviland, for half a century head of the famous porcelain manufacturing firm, has died here. He was a descendant of Theodore Haviland, an American, who came to France and established the firm of porcelain manufacturers bearing his name.

The American origin of the firm served it well 15 years ago when Limoges was in the throes of a great strike. Mr. Haviland, who served in a consular capacity for the American government, flew the American flag over his factory when the mob became menacing and, as a consequence, the factory was undisturbed.

Horthy Government Blocks Former Emperor's Plan to Take Possession of Hungarian Throne

ARMED GUARDS ALONG FRONTIER

Austrian Government Seeks to Prevent Former Emperor Re-entering Country

"Little Entente" Ready to Invade Austria if Former Ruler is Allowed to Enter

VIENNA, March 30.—(By Associated Press)—The Austrian government is taking every precaution to prevent former Emperor Charles from re-entering the country from Steiermark. In West Hungary, just over the Austrian boundary, where he is reported to have taken refuge on the estate of a Hungarian nobleman after his unsuccessful attempt to induce the Hungarian regent, Admiral Horthy, to turn over his powers to him. It is rumored, however, that semi-official statements that Charles is in Steiermark are intended as a cloak to cover the fact that he already is en route to Switzerland.

Armed guards from various organizations have been stationed along the frontier to intercept him should he attempt to re-enter Austria. The armories of the association of former officers are under heavy guard to prevent the removal of arms and the homes of all generals in the old imperial army are under police surveillance. It is reported that a large number of officers of the old army are hurrying in groups to towns adjacent to Steiermark. The refusal of the party composed of small farmers to endorse and support Charles. It is understood, was largely responsible for the request of Hungary that he depart from the country.

Meanwhile the "little entente" comprising Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia, and Rumania, has given notice on the Austrian government that troops will be included into Austria at the slightest indication that former Emperor Charles is to be permitted to remain in the country. Dispatches from both Belgrade and Prague state that the Jugoslav and Czechoslovak governments will not tolerate his presence. Unrest and nervousness prevails among all classes in Vienna where it is generally recognized the situation

COLD WAVE PASSES OUT TO SEA

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Leaving widespread destruction in the orchards of the east and middle west, the cold wave which crossed the Mississippi river Easter Sunday, passed out over the Atlantic today and normal temperatures returned.

The forecast for the Atlantic states north of Maryland, is fair and warmer tonight and cloudy and warmer tomorrow.

Government reports today said the freeze was disastrous to fruit, especially early varieties, but no attempt was made to estimate the extent of the damage. A strip starting in eastern New Mexico, crossing southern Nebraska, and moving eastward through Kansas, southern Illinois and Tennessee, and reaching the Atlantic seaboard, was particularly hard hit. Delaware and New Jersey fruit was badly damaged, but the peach growing sections of the southern states escaped while Wisconsin got off with light damage.

The exact damage will not be known until warmer weather thaws out the frozen parts and discloses the amount of actual frost bite.

CONVENTION OF POSTAL MEN

Gathering of State Letter Carriers' Association in Lowell June 12

Plans for the Entertainment of Many Visitors Have Been Started

A start has been made on plans for holding a convention of the Massachusetts State Letter Carriers association, branch of the national organization, in Lowell, Sunday, June 12. The convention will bring at least 200 delegates to the city, and it is expected that they will be accompanied by a large number of their associates and friends. The day after the convention at the evening before are to be made gala occasions for the postal men.

Although definite arrangements have not yet been made, it is expected that the sessions of the convention will be held in Odd Fellows hall. The exercises on Sunday will open at 10.30 a. m. It is not known yet what subjects will be taken up for consideration. Last year, the question of an increase in pay was at the front, but with the changed business and industrial conditions, it is uncertain whether the subject will be given prominence this year. It is said to be probable, though, that the alleged inequities in pay recommended in the report of the salary commission may be a leading topic of discussion.

It is expected that the sessions of the convention will be presided over by President T. B. McKelous of Haverhill. The secretary of the organization is George L. Hunt of this city.

In addition to the transaction of the regular business of the convention, it is being planned to have addresses delivered by speakers of national reputation.

On the evening before the opening of the convention, the members of the Lowell Letter Carriers' association will provide an entertainment for the visiting delegates and their friends. The features of the program

DRAFT EVADERS' LISTS

Will Be Furnished to All American Legion Posts in United States

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 30.—Lists of men classified by the war department as draft evaders, will be furnished all American Legion posts in the United States beginning about April 1. P. C. Harris, adjutant general of the army, made this announcement to national headquarters of the legion today.

A copy of each local draft board's list of evaders will be furnished national headquarters and copies of board lists containing names of offenders in their localities will be forwarded direct to Legion posts. Publication of the 4251 board lists will extend over several months.

F. W. Galbraith, jr., national commander of the legion, recently requested the war department to furnish the organization with these lists. At the same time, all posts were instructed to check the lists carefully that innocent men might be protected and the guilty placed in jail.

MISSING MARINE AIRMEN SAFE

Landed at Richmond, Va., Resumed Flight This Morning

Left Washington Yesterday En Route to Virgin Islands

RICHMOND, Va., March 30.—Two marine corps airplanes, which landed here yesterday from Washington, en route to the Virgin Islands, took the air again at 5.30 today bound for Fayetteville, N. C., where they were to have spent last night.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The two marine corps airplanes en route to the Virgin Islands, landed at Richmond, Va., yesterday afternoon and expected to proceed today to Fayetteville, N. C. The navy department was advised today. No previous word of the whereabouts of the planes had been received since they left yesterday afternoon.

The message, dated Richmond, and filed yesterday afternoon, reached the department today. It was signed by Major Thomas C. Turner, commanding the expedition and said the machines and their crew were all right and would proceed today.

The planes came down at Richmond at 4.40 p. m., yesterday, nearly four hours after they left here. Marine corps officers said the machines must have encountered trouble which was not indicated in Major Turner's message. They should have reached Fayetteville in about the elapsed flying time.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., March 30.—Marine corps airplanes on their way to the Virgin Islands had not arrived at Pope field here at 1.30 from Richmond. Planes sent out to meet the flyers returned to camp without finding any trace of them.

WINTER'S SNOWFALL WAS LIGHTEST IN YEARS

The winter just passed had the lightest snow fall in many years, according to a report of observations made by the Locks & Canals company at the Pawtucket dam, and made public today at the rooms of the chamber of commerce. The figures are for the years from 1904 to 1921, inclusive, with the data for some of the years incomplete.

During the winter just closed the total fall of snow was only 28 inches. Last year the fall was 70 inches, and the mean fall for the years included in the table was 37.99 inches.

No snow has fallen in Lowell during the present month. This is the first time that such a thing has happened in several years. Last year 3.5 inches fell in March. In 1915 the heaviest fall of the winter came in March, the record showing an accumulation of 33.5 inches.

February, according to the report, is the month that usually provides the most snow. The mean average is 12.53

CULTURE AND THE POCKETBOOK

Interesting Talk by Director of Vocational Education for Massachusetts

Robert O. Small Pleads for Special Training for Each Child

Latin and Greek Not Necessary to Cultivate and Give Character

Is culture only a veneer? Does it largely depend on the fairness of the pocketbook, and the social clique with which we travel? Robert O. Small, director of vocational education for Massachusetts, indicated that these factors enter into the culture which is produced by the accepted modes of classical education as bestowed at our schools where Latin and Greek flourish. Mr. Small pleaded for special training for each child, and specified that it be training which fit him for some particular thing. The child does not need Latin and Greek to cultivate and give character, he declared. The humble every-day things of life will give this, he said. But he insisted that it is the state's duty to vocationally train every child, so that he or she may have an equal opportunity for betterment in the world. The speaker, introduced by President Michael J. Carkhill, of the Hamilton Manufacturing company association, spoke at Mill No. 7 in the last lecture of a series of four arranged by the employees' organization of the company. He said:

"Lowell was the first city in the commonwealth to take advantage of the state law establishing vocational schools. In fact, before state aided schools of this sort were established, Lowell had founded the Textile school. This institution was one of the first. It was the first textile school established in the country, and this city is to be congratulated on its initiative in organizing the pioneer enterprise. The state schools, however, deal more with other industries than the textile. They are offering a kind of training which should be widely accepted. Who who are interested in workaday affairs of life should back the task of augmenting this training."

Praises Mill Officials
The speaker paid high praise to the officials of the mill, characterizing them as men who are offering real opportunities to their employees, in providing lectures of an educational nature. He declared that such lines of educational endeavor could do more effective work, in some ways, than the schools. "We have got to change our views on education in some respects," he added. He flouted the "common dominant notion of education as something that is dealt with only in schools and from textbooks—a mass of information which is learned and then forgotten." He insisted that education does not stop there and continued.

DANCE TO MUSIC FROM THE AIR

In Lowell, where a year ago for the first time in this country music for dancing was transmitted by radio, last night was given a second demonstration of the sending through the air of the notes of music to which hundreds of feet glided over a ball-room floor.

The sounds were transmitted between the Dartmouth building and Associate hall.

In addition to the dance tunes, there were concert selections, and the music was reproduced with a perfection of tone detail that gave the impression that an invisible orchestra was playing.

The voice of the mayor, delivering a short speech, was also borne through the air between the two buildings and was plainly heard by the distant audience.

An account of the event appears on another page of The Sun.

LOWER COURT SENTENCES UPHELD

Sentences of six months in jail, and fines of $100, imposed on John and Mary Delezasos some time ago by Judge Enright in the police court, were upheld today in the superior court at Cambridge. The defendants who were ordered to spend six months in the house of correction by the lower court after a testimony had been given by two girls formerly employed by the couple as waitresses, appealed their sentence. However, Judge Enright's ruling was sustained, and they were found guilty of keeping a disorderly house. Judge Cox took occasion to compliment Officers Conroy and Moore of the vice squad, together with other officers, on what he termed "splendid and successful efforts and able work in the handling of cases."

GENERAL ALARM FIRE

Damage of $10,000 Caused By Blaze in Odell Block, Salem, This Morning

SALEM, March 30.—Fire, for which a general alarm was sounded, about 6 o'clock this morning, did damage estimated at about $10,000 to the Odell block, corner of Washington and Church streets.

The fire started in the basement of the Wilson and Robinson Electrical supply store from unknown cause and before extinguished, worked its way through the partitions to quite an extent. Smoke and water damage was done to the stores of the E. E. Gray company, grocers, and John Heffernan, druggist; also smoke damage to the offices on the second floor and the headquarters of Essex Court of Foresters on the third floor.

MANY KILLED IN FIGHTING

Police Recapture Gevelsberg, Westphalia — 50 Killed in Battle

Reports From Many Sections Show More Than Three Score Killed in Fighting

BERLIN, March 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The communist uprising which had appeared to be at the point of collapse, has flickered up again in various sections of Germany than three score persons have been and reports today indicate that more killed in the renewed fighting.

The district between Leipzig and Halle appears now to be the chief zone of the communist operations. Train service between these two cities has been suspended.

The communists who were defeated recently in the Mansfeld district have regrouped their forces near Grobers (Grobitz?), where they are said to be in possession of a strong position. They are well equipped, especially with machine guns and in an effort to dislodge them the security police lost 12 killed.

The latest number of casualties reported from Gevelsberg, Westphalia, messages stating that 50 persons were killed in yesterday's clashes when the police recaptured the town from the communists.

No General Strike

COLOGNE, March 30.—Efforts by communists to bring about a general strike at Solingen, have failed, according to a telegram from that city, which is occupied by British troops. Bands of rioters broke into public buildings in various localities in the rural district surrounding the city and robbed some banks, but are said to have been routed by police forces.

Gevelsberg was for many hours yesterday in the hands of communists, says a telegram from Harren. The communists fiercely resisted the police, but suffered considerable losses. 23 of them being killed. Several policemen were killed and wounded.

50 Killed at Gevelsberg

LONDON, March 30.—Fifty persons have been killed in fighting at Gevelsberg, Westphalia, between communists and the police, according to Berlin messages today to Reuters Limited.

The town was recaptured from the communists by the authorities yesterday.

At Mannheim, the police were attacked and returned the fire, killing three persons and wounding five.

Ninety-two communists, including 14 women, have been arrested in the suppression of a riot at Dresden, says a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

Reports from Dusseldorf declare the communist activity in the Rhine region, is increasing and it is asserted that some mines in the district have been seized by workers.

The trouble at Jena, the glass manufacturing center, has been attended by some success on the part of the communists in their efforts to start a general strike. Messages report that they have occupied the Carl Zeiss optical works, a plant of world wide celebrity, have stopped street railway traffic and forced the electric workers to lay down their tools.

TO END EVIL CONDITIONS AT ELLIS ISLAND

(Special to The Sun)
By H. B. HUNT
WASHINGTON, March 29.—The Harding administration announces that evil conditions at the Ellis Island immigration station are to be remedied immediately.

Exposure of the situation at the island, where inefficient and inhumane methods have existed, resulted in a conference between administration leaders and persons cognizant with the state of affairs.

Quick action was promised forthwith.

The announcement came from W. W. Hubbard, just appointed by President Harding as commissioner general of immigration. It followed a visit to Washington by the Rev. J. J. Connelley, health commissioner of New York city, who has charged Ellis Island is a hotbed of pestilence imperilling the entire nation.

Copeland went into detail on conditions with Hubbard, Senator W. P. Dillingham, chairman of the senate committee on immigration, and Dr. Charles E. Sawyer, whom the president has designated director general of welfare.

Briefly the administration's promise is:

"That the immigration organization at Ellis Island is to be tightened up. That more speed is to be required in passing on the admission or exclusion of immigrants.

"That everything possible be done to remove the confusion that has caused the detention of thousands of immigrants in unhealthy conditions at the island and aboard ship.

"Hubbard and Sawyer assured Copeland that at any time present medical staffs at New York were unable to handle the examination of incoming immigrants, the force would immediately be increased. No need for any immediate increase exists, however, it was decided.

"The whole difficulty at Ellis Island," said Senator Dillingham, "has resulted from the disorganization of the immigration forces during the war. There was virtually no immigration during that period and the organization was permitted to go to pieces.

"Following the armistice, immigration increased rapidly, but for some reason or other those in charge of immigration matters failed to tighten up the organization or institute any system in their handling of immigrants.

"Ten years ago immigration authorities at New York handled with ease 4000 persons a day. Many a day they handled 5000, and did the job well.

"But for the past year the greatest number they have been able to care for in 24 hours has been about 800.

"The new administration and the new commissioner general propose to put the organization on a basis that will expedite business and clean up any congestion that has been caused in the past by delaying judgment.

"We will work in full accord and co-operation with the health authorities of New York to see that adequate medical inspection and care is given all immigrants and that no added danger of contagion or disease results from long detentions and overcrowding."

ASKS PRES. HARDING TO DEPORT O'CALLAGHAN

BOSTON, March 30.—Letters protesting against "further toleration of the presence in this country of Donald J. O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork," who was rendered a reception in this city on Sunday, were sent by the Loyal Coalition through its president, Demarest Lloyd, yesterday to President Harding, Secretary of Labor Davis and Attorney General Daugherty. The letter to the president says that O'Callaghan "gained admission to the country by a stealthy and premeditated violation of our laws" and asks for his immediate deportation.

No Extension of Time
WASHINGTON, March 30.—The appointment of counsel for Donald J. O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who arrived in this country as a stowaway without a passport, several months ago, to have him given asylum in the United States as a political refugee will be denied by the state department, it was understood last night. An opinion may be handed down in the case soon.

O'Callaghan, after his arrest by immigration authorities, was released on bail by former Secretary of Labor Wilson and when the department of state pressed deportation proceedings against him, he was adjudged a "seaman" by the labor department and granted 20 days in which to ship aboard a vessel bound abroad.

The lord mayor, however, ignored the ruling of the labor department and beyond his leave, obtained permission of former Secretary Wilson to continue his indefinite stay until an appeal for the right of asylum made to the state department was answered.

THE TALE OF A MULE

Seven-Year Court Fight Waged Over Him
CHICAGO, March 30.—Seven years ago J. R. Morris, a director of the People's Gas company, had a mule on his country estate near Lake Forest, a millionaire's suburb.

J. P. Doyle, retired business man, who lived on the adjoining estate, had 11 mules.

Doyle's mule was thin and anemic. The owners agreed that Morris' mule should "board" for a few months in Doyle's fertile pastures.

Time came for the return. Morris picked out a mule. He said it was his. Doyle said it wasn't.

The two went to court over the mule, which was worth $225.

For seven years the case has dragged through the lower courts, being appealed time and time again by one or the other of the men. Meanwhile, the mule died in disgust.

The case is now before the appellate court. It has cost the taxpayers an average of $250 a day while being threshed out.

PROPHET FOR DRY POST

Man Who Presaged Harding's Nomination Stated for Prohibition Commissioner

HILLSBORO, O., March 28.—The Crusade, the first great temperance movement, originated here in 1878. On August 31, eight years later, Roy A. Hinckley, was born here. Now he's slated to become national prohibition commissioner.

Hinckley became editor of the Hillsboro Dispatch in 1910 and helped to reorganize the county republican organization.

He prophesied the coming of prohibition when the movement was very unpopular. He was county manager of the Dry Federation in three campaigns and in the last one rolled up the greatest comparative majority for the dry cause of any county in the state.

He was defeated for the congressional nomination in 1912 by Simeon D. Fess in a five-cornered fight, but ardently supported Fess in the campaign.

Hinckley wrote an editorial in January, 1917, announcing that Harding would be the next republican nominee for president. It was widely published. After Harding's nomination Hinckley was referred to as "The Prophet of Hillsboro."

READY FOR TRIAL

Pastor Says He'll Face Mann Act Charge

By R. J. GIBBONS
PASSAIC, N. J., March 29.—With the date of his trial on a charge of violating the Mann act less than a month away, Rev. Cornelius M. Densel has come out of the seclusion in which he wrapped himself after being ousted by his church to make a public statement.

"I am going to see this thing through to the end like a man," he said. "Tell that to the world, and say that I am sorry for what I did."

Densel, for 11 years pastor of the little First Netherlands church here, disappeared on November 12, 1920, with Miss Trina Hansenborg, 25-year-old member of his church choir. The two were found together in Buffalo a month later.

"I loved him," said the girl, who was called upon by the government to testify against him next month. She was busy hanging clothes in the backyard of her home.

"To Have Wed"

"Domine Densel and I understood each other as no one ever can guess. We were to have been married. For many years he had written to me and told me of his love. Every day while we were in Buffalo I looked for the divorce papers to come that would make him a single man. But they did not come.

"I thought only of my great love. It blinded me to the injury I was inflicting on Densel's wife and his children. I realize it now. You cannot know how my heart aches, how ashamed and miserable I am."

Rev. Densel is 50, the father of ten children and grandfather of three. He speaks with a voice quiet and cultured. "I did wrong," he says. "At the time I went away my vision was clouded. I did not see the harm and injury which would follow my act. Now that it is over I thank God for bringing me back to my senses. My wife has forgiven me. What more can a man wish? I will go to trial like a man."

Are Taken Back

Both Densel and Miss Hansenborg were turned out of the church but have been taken back on probation. A call has gone to Holland for a new minister.

The congregation of the church is all of Dutch descent. Stories in the settlement, which is in a part of the city, have wooden shoes on display in the windows. Even the neighborhood is quaint and reminds one of Holland. Many of the women wear kintles and flowing white dresses.

Sentiment among the church members is divided. Many condemn Densel. Others want to give him a chance. But scarcely anyone feels bitter toward the girl. Sympathy of all of the 400 members is with her.

In Seclusion

Since Densel was admitted to $5000 bail, pending trial, he has lived in seclusion.

FOUR MEN BURNED BY BALLOON EXPLOSION

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 30.—An officer and three men from the army balloon school at Ross Field, Arcadia, were seriously burned yesterday by an explosion of an army balloon in Coyote Pass, near the Midwest Country club, about eight miles from Los Angeles.

The explosion occurred just as a balloon from which Lieut. George E. Watts had jumped, reached the earth near a detail of men sent from Ross Field to bring in the bag. Officers expressed the opinion that a cigarette caused the explosion.

FIRST HOLD-UP IN HISTORY OF PROVINCE

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 30.—A hold-up, said to be the first in the history of Newfoundland, was reported here early yesterday when a young man returning from a post-lunch dance was robbed of $200, his watch and jewelry by two armed bandits. No arrest were reported by the police up to late last night.

It is now believed that Ash may be used more extensively in eradicating mosquito larvae.

Veteran Telegrapher Tells How He Taught Edison To "Operate"

HE GAVE EDISON FIRST TELEGRAPH LESSON

The man who gave Thomas A. Edison his first lesson in telegraphy today manages a small telegraph office in Visalia, Cal. He is John Clarence Ward, 74, probably the oldest telegrapher in the United States, having been at the key for 30 years. In the Civil war he was attached to Gen. Grant's headquarters as an operator, and he was the first to receive a message from the west end, when the Atlantic cable to Europe failed, was a member of the party which, in 1886, constructed a cable across the Pacific, via the Aleutian Islands. His acquaintance with Edison started when Edison was a train boy.

(Special to The Sun) VISALIA, Cal., March 30—In one of those fenced off, two-by-four telegraph offices that any town of moderate size tucks away in the rear of some store, there sits today, looking away the remaining years of his life, the man who taught Thomas A. Edison how to operate a telegraph instrument.

He is John Clarence Ward, aged 74, and he is probably the oldest telegrapher, in point of service, in the United States. For 35 years he has followed the call of the code and, woven well in the chapters of his life story is the romance of the wire's pioneer days.

During the Civil war he was operator in the union army attached to Gen. Grant's headquarters. Wounded when a cannon ball struck the building, he was sent west to help nurse the infant wire, going to San Francisco and Sacramento by stage coach.

Pacific Cable

The Atlantic cable having proved a failure, he was next enlisted in the romantic venture of stringing wires at

NOTHING TO DO BUT FRY!
All prepared—potatoes and everything. One can feeds three hungry appetites. Far less expensive than eggs or meat. Fine during Lent.

What tastes better— than Gorton's Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes?

YOU know the kind—golden-brown, plump, sizzling with aroma—the kind that "down-east" folks start every one they give them to, a hankering for.

But, much as you and the family like them, you don't serve fish-cakes often, do you? A lot of bother—that soaking and picking of the fish, the boiling and paring of the potatoes, and then the mixing, and frying.

But now—at last—you can have fish cakes often as you want! Gorton's Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes banish the bother!

You can have delicious, regular Gloucester fish cakes in only the time it takes you to open a can and fry what is in it.

But besides—
They're far more economical, the waste and labor considered. A can is enough for three people. Less expensive than any meal of meat or eggs.

Try them on your family tomorrow. Ask your grocer for a supply today. They're sold everywhere.

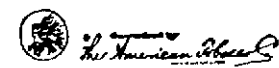

P.S.—A Lenten suggestion: A case (24 cans) of Gorton's Ready-to-Fry Cod Fish Cakes in your pantry will save you work and expense and will delight the whole family.

BABY IS CHEATED BY WOMEN'S TRICK

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 30—A three-week-old baby is without name or home because of the maternal longing of a woman who is not its mother.

Mrs. George C. Carpenter wanted a baby. So did her husband, a physician. A girl was born to Mrs. Anna Feuchter, Mrs. Carpenter, who had been a trained nurse, attended her. Fifteen minutes later Mrs. Carpenter carried the baby away.

A birth certificate giving the name of "Virginia Ann Carpenter" was filed by a physician engaged by Dr. Carpenter in expectation of the birth of a child to his wife.

Then tongues wagged. Mrs. Carpenter confessed to her husband that the child was not theirs. It was left at St. Anthony's hospital.

Board Takes Baby
The Board of Children's Guardians took the baby.

Mrs. Feuchter wants her baby, but the board says she is not strong enough to work to support it. She also has three children by a previous marriage.

Edgar Feuchter, father of the child, has separated from his wife.

"I want my baby back," says Mrs. Feuchter. "I want all of my children. I look in wishing to support the others. I'll do enough more work to support this one."

Welcomes Exposure

"I surrendered it only because I thought it would go to a home where another woman and her husband would love it as their own and do more for it than I am able to do."

"But I'm glad now that the whole thing has been exposed so I can have my girl back. I'm going to call her Dorothy May and keep her always."

The name of "Virginia Ann Carpenter" has been erased from the city records and attorneys have volunteered to help Mrs. Feuchter in her fight for the child.

Sun Office

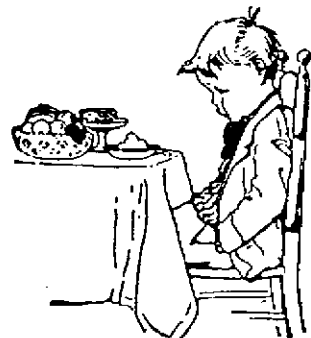

Do the soviet really menace western Europe? If you have secured a copy of the Peoples' Atlas, now being distributed at practically half price by The Sun, you are in a position to make a fairly accurate judgment for yourself on this vital question. One of the numerous maps which the volume contains shows the new Europe. As it has been divided since the peace conference. A great belt of Slavic countries, racially akin to the Russians but determined to protect their political integrity, are seen to act as a breakwater against the menacing millions of the red dictatorship. Beginning at the south bank of the Gulf of Finland, there lie the following independent states: Estonia, Latvia, Courland, Lithuania, Poland and the Ukraine. This is but one of the multitude of enlightening uses to which this remarkable and up-to-the-minute atlas can be put. Americans of foreign birth will find it invaluable in showing the latest developments in the struggle for national autonomy which has been going on since the armistice. Those whose native land is Poland will be interested to trace the boundaries of that now liberated country. Lithuanians will find their newly freed motherland to the eastward. The Ukrainians of whom Lowell has over a hundred, and of which a million reside in the United States, will see what a vast territory has been assigned to them by the great powers.

In brief, no one who pretends to keep in touch with the activities of the world can afford to be without this informative book. It was because of its unusual merit and its new features which supersede much of similar works even in standard geographic encyclopedias, that the Sun arranged to distribute it locally at a reduction which places it within the reach of everyone.

SEC. HUGHES REAFFIRMS OPEN DOOR IN CHINA

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The principal involved in the effort of the American group of bankers, in cooperation with bankers of France, Great Britain and Japan, to encourage American interests in the assistance of China through the International group known as the Chinese consortium, has the approval of the United States, Secretary Hughes informed J. P. Morgan & Co. for the American group on March 23, in a letter made public last night by the state department.

At the same time, communications from 1915 to 1920, between the four powers discussing policies involved in the formation of the consortium, were made public simultaneously with their publication in London, Paris and Tokyo.

In giving the approval of the Harding administration to the declared purposes of the consortium, as entered into by the American bankers with the sanction of the Wilson administration, Sec. Hughes took occasion to declare for "equality of commercial and industrial opportunity" to industrial enterprises of all nationalities in China, a statement which was regarded here as a reaffirmation of the John Hay policy of the open door.

FISHERMEN RESCUED

Waist Deep in Water When Picked Up Off Big Rock

SWAMPSCOTT, March 30.—Walter Kehoe, former state checker, chamberlain and his son, Lawrence Kehoe, both fishermen, who had been sought during the night by coast guards when they failed to return from the fishing grounds, were picked up today off Big Rock, where they had been struggling in the freezing temperature.

Their motor boat had been damaged by seas after the engine became disabled and they were almost waist deep in water when found. Both men suffered from exposure, but physicians said recovery was probable.

DAUGHERTY TALKS ON PROHIBITION LAWS

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The nation will settle down in the next year or two, Attorney General Daugherty said today, to a more complete observance of prohibition laws and there will be less bootlegging. Prohibition enforcement is at present a hard job, he added, and dockets of district attorneys are crowded with cases awaiting action.

Debs Not Offered Freedom

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Legislation to solve the problem of prisoners confined for violation of the war time laws is now under consideration, Attorney General Daugherty said today. Senators Sterling and King and other members of the senate judiciary committee have asked Mr. Daugherty to confer with them and present his ideas on the question. A bill already has been drawn to cover the matter.

Mr. Daugherty said published reports that Eugene V. Debs, imprisoned at Atlanta for violation of the espionage act, had been offered his freedom during his recent conference with the attorney general here on promise to abandon the spread of Bolshevik doctrines, were without foundation.

The Debs case, Mr. Daugherty said, would be the subject of careful investigation on which an opinion would be transmitted to President Harding. Meanwhile, he added, he would not discuss it.

SEARCH FOR BODIES IN RUINS OF WAREHOUSE

CHICAGO, March 30.—Search for bodies continued today in the ruins of a warehouse destroyed by an explosion yesterday. Men and police sought evidence that might throw further light upon the cause of the disaster in which at least eight persons were killed and several score hurt.

Shirley T. Finch, an attorney, planned to question again today Edward and Isadore Schaffer, sons of one of the translators of a concern which city authorities believe, has been manufacturing and storing fire works in a building adjacent to the destroyed warehouse. City ordinances forbid the storage of fireworks within the city limits.

The police also were searching for W. Singer and Nathan Schaffer, partners in the concern.

Max Singer, a nephew of Schaffer's partner, was said to have told the police that ordinarily 10 men were used to load fireworks in a secret basement factory. He said that only four were at work yesterday and that all were killed.

ALLEGED AGENT FOR GERMAN MARKS HELD

BOSTON, March 30.—Edward A. Stutz of New York, alleged to have been an agent for German marks operations at Fall River, a year ago, was arrested here today for the police of that city, on charges of forgery and larceny. It is alleged that he forged a receipt for 10,000 German marks and 10,000 francs after Karl Neundorfer of Fall River had paid him $800, and that he stole a smaller sum from Alice G. Kiencke of Fall River, in another transaction.

PREMIER TO RETIRE

HALIFAX, N.S., March 30.—George M. Murray, premier of Nova Scotia since 1920, will retire from active politics owing to ill-health, it was announced today. He will retain the title of premier, but the duties of the office will be assumed by another member of the cabinet.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Speaker at Billerica Meeting

Says Massachusetts is Good Fruit Growing State

A well taken care of fruit crop in this state will yield more money than a similar crop in any other state of the union, for Massachusetts is the best fruit growing state in America, declared Leon F. Whitney of Hadley, Mass., and New York, in the course of his address at the farmers' institute held in Billerica Centre today. Mr. Whitney was the morning speaker at the institute, which was held in the Congregational church under the auspices of the Middlesex North Agricultural society.

There were about 50 men and women present at the forenoon session, which was presided over by Edward F. Dickinson, chairman of the institute committee, but at noon the attendance was more than doubled.

In opening his address, which was on "Problems and Promises of Fruit Growing in Massachusetts," Mr. Whitney said the farmers of this state should plant more small fruit than the farmers of New York, for the outlook in this section of the country is greater than in any other section. He told of a Massachusetts farmer, who last year sold apples in New York for $3 a barrel and cleared up about $3000 on a three-acre orchard. In his opinion, the speaker said, orchards were greater investments than savings banks and he cited the case of a farmer who owned a 20-year-old apple tree, which an electric company wished to purchase in order to erect a pole on its site. The company first offered $5 for the tree and then doubled the offer, but the farmer asked that $200 be placed in a savings bank in his name and then he would part with the tree, his reason being that the tree meant an investment of $200 to him. The company finally compromised and allowed him $150 for the tree. Mr. Whitney informed his listeners that New York bankers have recently invested money in a 1500 acre orchard and they now feel they have a bigger investment on their hands than they ever had before.

Fruit growing is as long as you want to make it, stated Mr. Whitney, and then he told of a Massachusetts farmer, who keeps fruit the whole year round. This man has built a storage 125 feet long and has installed therein a system of ventilation, which keeps the fruit in good season at all times. "Massachusetts," he declared, "should be the leading fruit state in the union, because its conditions are ideal. It has a soil for the various kinds of fruit grown and the climate for fruit growing is excellent, and again you can buy supplies for the orchard close to home and that is another thing in your favor."

In Mr. Whitney's opinion fruit growing helps to build character and is fascinating. He said it is well for the country to spring a scare on fruit growers occasionally, for it results in driving out of the business city folk. He said last year a great many fruit growers went out of business because of the enormous quantity of fruit on the market, and that helped the regular farmer. The surplus, he said, was due to the fact that the gates of export were closed and that the rate of exchange was very low. The speaker then spoke of the various ways of selling fruit and cited the case of a fruit-grower, who last year had a big stock of Baldwin apples on hand. This man put out a circular, which read as follows: "Have a bite of the old-fashioned New England Baldwin apple you used to knock off the tree with a club while the old man was not looking," and the result was that although he was selling the fruit at $2.50 a bushel, he got rid of all he had. In closing, Mr. Whitney said fruit growing makes men happier and lengthens his days.

At noon recess was taken for dinner, which was served in the vestry of the church by the Ladies Aid society and at the close of the dinner, there were songs and readings by Miss Lella Bull and Miss Evelyn Spaulding.

The afternoon program included the reading of a poem entitled "The Boy of Tomorrow," followed by a discussion of an essay by Arthur D. Dean, chief of the division of trade schools in the New York state educational department.

BANQUET AND DANCE

The T.M.C.L. will tender a testimonial banquet to the young women who took part in the organization's recent military show this evening in the institute rooms in Stackpole street. The banquet will be followed by dancing.

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance has been proposed in the City of Lowell, to wit:

An Ordinance

To provide for the annual payment to the department of water works of the City of Lowell for the consumption of water in and upon the parks and playgrounds of the City of Lowell and for water used and for the maintenance of hydrant service for the protection of property from fire hazard in said city.

Be it ordained by the Municipal Council of the City of Lowell, as follows:

SECTION I. For the purpose of providing full payment to the Water Works department of the City of Lowell for the yearly consumption of water in and upon the parks and playgrounds of the City of Lowell for all purposes there shall be appropriated annually by the Municipal Council a sum of ten dollars ($10.00) for each hydrant used and for such sum of money shall be credited to the department of water works for the maintenance thereof.

SECTION II. In order to provide for the payment of said appropriation mentioned in Section I, and II, it shall be the duty of the Municipal Council to instruct the Board of Assessors to take the amount of money necessary for such appropriations.

SECTION IV. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION V.—This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage.

By order of the Municipal Council,
STEPHEN FLYNN, Clerk.

LOWELL BOSTON COLLEGE CLUB DANCE

Plans have been completed for the annual dancing party of the Lowell Boston College club to be held this evening in Associate hall. The committee in charge has arranged many interesting and novel features for the occasion and an exceptionally large attendance is expected. The program will open by a concert by one of the city's leading orchestras and dancing will continue until the early morning hours. Students of the college from all parts of the state are expected to attend.

In the Police Court

to her fall or leap from the car. Emma Martin, 15, another girl who was in the machine, alleges that the Flynn girl jumped to the street, when the defendant refused to halt the automobile in response to her pleas. The presence at the superior court session in Cambridge of several necessary witnesses for the state caused the continuance today. Final plans for a hearing Saturday morning have been made, and counsel have expressed themselves as in readiness for a trial of the case, which has excited extraordinary interest. Laflamme and Richard both spent a substantial period in jail after the alleged abduction, as it was some time before they could be obtained for them in sufficient amount. When Judge Enright first fixed their bonds at $10,000 each, attempts were made to free them on bail, but the effort was not

LOWELL BOSTON COLLEGE CLUB DANCE

Immediately successful. Later, when it was believed that the Flynn girl was out of danger, it was sought to have the bail reduced, but the court declined to accept to this proposal, stating that the seriousness of the offence warranted a continuance of high bond, whatever the condition of Mary Flynn.

Breaking and Entering

The case of Romie Hickory, 19, who pleaded guilty yesterday to breaking and entering in the night time the store of Charles Thomas, with larceny of cigars, chewing gum, tobacco, and cigars, of a total value of more than $20, came up today on continuance. The youth was held for the superior court in bonds of $500. No relatives or friends were at court to furnish bail, and the defendant was ordered committed.

Other Offenders

John Kaznochka, charged with larceny of $300 from Antoni Bednarski, had his case continued this morning to June 30. In the interim, he has been ordered by Judge Enright to make restitution. Bednarski testified that the defendant has returned only 133 of the five hundred alleged to have been taken. "Well, he'll pay the remainder in three months or go to jail," was the comment of the court.

The case of Ernest A. Hamell, arrested on larceny charges by Inspector John A. Walsh, was continued to tomorrow morning, bonds of $100 being set. It is alleged that the defendant stole $15, the property of Carol Burnowsky. On the complaint, Hamell is specified not only by his own name but also by the alias of "Napoleon." The alleged larceny is said to have taken place January 8.

The case of William Brennan, charged with illegal keeping of liquor, will be heard April 6. The case first came before the police court March 23, when it was continued to today. Further continuance was the result of the absence of members of the liquor board, witnesses in the matter, and who were this morning at the superior court at Cambridge.

Harry Austin, 61 years old and lacking one arm, was sent to the state farm on vagrancy charges preferred at his own request. Yesterday afternoon Austin walked into police headquarters and announced to Deputy Downey that he desired to be arrested. He told the officers that he had no home, no job, and needed food and shelter.

Thrift Coal Club

Our coal club will start Friday, April 1st. We expect to make it a greater success than ever. This year it will be a great boon to many people to be able to pay for their coal supply in weekly payments. It is an easy way to get the coal bill all paid up, during the Spring and Summer months.

Save a little each week and deposit it at our office and we will give you a little booklet showing the payments. The more you pay in at the beginning the more you save on your coal, and you are sure of a supply when you need it.

Whatever is the price each month that will be the price to members of our club based on the amount paid in so that the average will probably be lower than the price of coal in the fall.

It's a good thrift plan. Try it, and we think you will be pleased. Come in and talk it over. Our new coal prices for Lowell will be announced soon and we think we will do a little better than the surrounding cities, considering the freight costs to the different points.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"FLIPPETY-FLAP DOES A FAVOR"

THE TWINS AND FLIPPETY-FLAP JUMPED INTO LUMPY'S MOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. Lion and Lumpy and Lulu stared in astonishment when Flippety-Flap shuffled his way into their cave, followed bravely by Nanny and Nick. Lumpy was so astonished that he almost forgot his toothache.

"May I be of service?" asked the fairymen politely.

"Service!" roared Mr. Lion. "Why you aren't big enough to make a satisfactory bite, and that's the only service I can think of that you might do us. I'm longing for a piece of good old circus beefsteak. And you're not a beef, are you? Nor you, nor you?" shaking his mane at the twins.

Before Flippety-Flap had time to answer, Lumpy began to scream again. "My tooth! Oh, my tooth!" And he opened his mouth like a yawning cave.

Flippety-Flap opened a little flap in one of his Magic Shoes and took out a small brown bottle. Then opening the other shoe, he took out a piece of white cotton.

"Pardon me," said he to Lumpy. "but I shall have to get inside your mouth if I am to stop the aching. Will you kindly hold it open?"

"No, sirree!" declared Mr. Lion promptly, stepping in between. "Nothing of the kind! How do we know that you are not poison, and if our son should accidentally swallow you, he'd die."

"Help, oh, help!" cried Lumpy hopping around on a hind foot. "I am dying right now!"

Mrs. Lion laid a paw on her husband's mane. "Leo," said she, "you'd better let him. Otherwise I see no sleep for us."

"All right!" agreed Leo grudgingly. The twins and Flippety-Flap jumped into Lumpy's mouth at once.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Final arrangements for the annual ball of Lowell council, No. 73, Knights of Columbus, to be held next week in Associate hall, were made last evening at a meeting of the committee in charge. Various sub-committees reported, showing that much work has been put into the affair and a large crowd is expected. The program will include a concert from 8 to 9 o'clock, grand march at 9:15 and general dancing until 2 a. m. Tickets will be served at Intermission. Grand Knight George P. Briggs is general manager, John E. Hart, assistant general manager, Daniel P. Brennan, floor director, and James E. Markham, John P. Roane, Jr., Dr. R. J. Gendreau and Joseph Chretien, assistant floor directors. Charles J. Landers is chairman of the reception committee and Thomas J. Fitzgerald treasurer.

Mulqueen Says Tanlac Restored His Health After He Had Suffered Seven Long Years

"If my word will do any good, I am more than glad to tell of my experience with Tanlac, for I consider it a medicine that can't be equalled," said James Mulqueen, 247 Dutton st., Lowell, recently.

"I had a stubborn case of stomach trouble that had been bothering me for seven years and at times I had severe attacks of indigestion that simply knocked me out. Why, the pains in my stomach nearly drove me insane and I would have to quit work and go home. Gas formed something terrible and I would get so smothered it seemed like I was going to lose my breath altogether. I had awful night sweats and could not sleep to do any good, and of mornings was so weak and played out I never felt equal to my work. I was bothered with constipation a great deal and often had attacks of biliousness. All through the day I felt dead tired, and I had just thought sometimes I would give clean out, I was so weak.

"Well, Tanlac couldn't have fit my case better if it had been made especially for it, and it didn't take but three bottles to fix me up in great shape. I haven't had one of those attacks since, and my appetite is the finest kind. Those night sweats have disappeared, and I rest well and simply feel like a new man now. Tanlac is one medicine that will do what they say it will."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass.; and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

MUST HAVE ASSISTANCE

Maj. Jeyes Tells School Committee of Physical Work in Schools

Major Walter R. Jeyes, physical director for the elementary schools, told the members of the school committee at their regular meeting last evening that he must have two more assistants if he is to carry on his work systematically and efficiently and take care not only of the physical instruction of the children in the grammar schools, but also the accident prevention work which has been added to his duties. The committee did not accept his recommendations, but assured him that they would be considered at the next meeting after the board had time to go over the matter. Chairman Delaney and Mr. Donnelly were in favor of giving the maj. his assistants at once, but the other members were opposed.

Major Jeyes explained in detail the duties of his position. At the present time he has but one assistant, Miss Nello D. Horner. He recommended that Charles E. Maguire and Frederick Desmond be appointed assistants. He has to take care of the pupils in 256 classrooms spread over some 12 or 13 schools.

With the advent of the summer season the boys are clamoring for baseball and a league is under process of formation. Eleven or 12 teams have already been entered and more are expected. This means much work after school hours, Major Jeyes said. Both he and his assistant own machines and use them in their work, he added.

Mr. Markham cross-examined the major at length and finally Mr. Donnelly moved that the two assistants whom Major Jeyes had named be elected. Messrs. Bergeron, Markham and Warner voted against the motion, pleading that they wished more time to consider the matter.

Chairman Delaney said that he had been waited on before the meeting by a committee of parochial school boys asking that they be allowed to enter the baseball league. The matter will be decided later.

Mr. Delaney also brought up the matter of establishing a summer camp for boys over 13 years of age. He explained the project at length and the committee empowered him together with the superintendent and physical and military directors to go into the matter further and make a report at the next meeting.

George H. Russell was given permission to take pictures in the high and grammar schools.

The board voted to instruct the city treasurer to abate a bill levied against the town of Tyngsboro for tuition given William Ferguson in the Lowell high school. It was explained that Ferguson was really a resident of this city and had only a summer home in Tyngsboro.

At the request of Francis Rowley of the Humane society, permission was given to have an agent of that society

International Conference of Red Cross

GENEVA, March 30.—Means of limiting blockades and restricting the use of asphyxiating gases and other measures of war that might be considered inhuman, will be discussed by the international conference of the Red Cross which began a three day meeting today. The training of the medical and health workers in peace and in war also will be considered. French and Belgian delegates will not take part in the conference because of the presence of German and Austrian representatives, who are expected to protest against the conduct of the allies during the war. Dr. Livingstone Ferrand and Lieut. Col. Robert E. Olds, Red Cross commissioner for Europe, are among the American delegates.

he has been a member of the committee he has not seen a single bill.

Mr. Delaney explained that last year's committee had authorized the chairman to act as a finance committee. He approves bills and they are on file at all times in the business agent's office. Mr. Bergeron moved that all the bills contracted by the department come before the entire committee in open meeting and it was so voted.

The Frock in the Illustration—with its pretty tier of tucks—is new McCall Pattern 2125. Organdie, Voile, or dainty Dotted Swiss would be appropriate. In Silks—Taffeta or Foulard.

NOW—YOU CAN MAKE YOUR OWN PRETTY FROCKS—SUCCESSFULLY!

Before—you've probably joyously started a pale pink Organdie and stopped right in the middle because no matter how you tried, the sleeve wouldn't go right. Or perhaps, when you did finish, your long mirror would not satisfy you with a picture of chic and charm.

With the New McCall Pattern, sewing should be very much easier for the beginner. Instead of the confusing circles and perforations of the old style pattern, it has printed words to tell you how and where to cut. To guide you in patting parts together are notches numbered to correspond, so that a pale pink Organdie sleeve, in this case, would have to go right.

This new kind of Pattern is also very much more accurate and offers you a foundation, with the style-line right. (For it's choosing the style-right Pattern that banishes the "home-made look.")

You may safely make a Frock of any of our fresh, crispy Spring cottons or pretty Silks with the New McCall Patterns.

11 FEET 7 INCHES OF THE BAG

CISCO, Tex., March 28—Maynard Felix, Denver recruit, is showing Pat Moran a new stunt in first baling. He does a perfect Jack-knife split. It enables him to grab a ball anywhere within a radius of 11 feet and 7 inches of the sack.

He is 6 feet 3 inches tall and just opens himself up like a monster pair of scissors—one leg straight in front of him, the other straight back, until he almost sits on the ground.

"I learned to do it when I was a kid," says Felix. And he isn't much over that now—just 21.

Last summer he played with the BINGHIS (Mont.) club and drew $500 a month and expenses. Three major league clubs tried to land him. Felix chose Cincinnati because he was born there.

Two weeks after his arrival at the Reds came Jay Wingo let his bat and it hit Felix on the right foot. The accident may cost the youngster a chance to crowd Jake Daubert off the first bag, but Moran is likely to keep him around as an understudy.

Umpires Cannot Impose Fines On Players

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 30.—Empires in the American Association will not be allowed to impose fines on unruly players this season under word sent out to club owners by Thomas J. Hickey, president of the league, according to advices received here today. They may recommend fines to the league head, however, and will retain the privilege of banishing a player from the field if deemed necessary.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES
NEW YORK, March 30.—"Dabe" Ruth is suffering from a sprained left wrist at Shreveport, La., the Yankee training grounds. He will not miss many training games, however.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Davy Bancroft, star shortstop of the New York Nationals, has had his tonsils removed, say dispatches from Mobile, Ala., where he is getting the Gumbo on his tour north. He is expected to start the season with the team.

ST. LOUIS, March 30.—The St. Louis Nationals were scheduled to break camp at Orange, Tex., today after a field meet in which members of the Cardinals and students of Orange high school were the competitors. A dispatch received here. The Cardinals will return directly to St. Louis.

The first team of the St. Louis Americans was to leave New Orleans for home today also.

CLEVELAND, March 30.—The Cleveland Indians were scheduled to play their opening exhibition game on their barnstorming trip at San Antonio, today. Jim Bagby was booked to pitch.

OSSEING, N. Y., March 30.—One of the rarest operations known to medicine, that of removing a bullet from a man's brain, was successfully accomplished yesterday in the Sing Sing prison hospital. A remarkable feature of the operation was that Dr. William L. Chapman of Brooklyn, who performed the work, is himself an invalid and was wheeled to the operating table in a chair, propped in which he worked on the patient.

The operation was an attempt to cure insanity in Roman Leonidow, a prisoner there. Two bullets were removed, one of which was imbedded almost to the base of the brain, the other being lodged behind the right ear.

PITTSBURG, March 30.—The regulars of the Pittsburgh National league baseball club broke camp at Hot Springs, Ark., today, and set sail for Little Rock, for an exhibition game. Chief Mose Yellowhorse, recruit line pitcher from Tulsa, will go with the regulars, through Little Rock and west to Hot Springs, to be exhibited again. The second string men will remain in camp at Hot Springs, for several weeks.

HOUSTON, Tex., March 30.—Third Baseman Jewelews, last year's marauder of the Houston club, and outfielder Bill Stelciewicz, champion batter of the Houston club last year, have been sent to the St. Louis Nationals.

CHICAGO, March 30.—Corsecan, Tex., was today a stopping place on the White Sox barnstorming tour, with a

As expected, Peitz proved a customer and made such a good thing that many thought he earned his decision.

Shelvin was entitled to the victory, however, for he outwore the victor in most of the rounds. It was the side work that Shelvin did and not those fans not near the ringside that not see that helped him to land a winner.

First Curtailment in Fifteen Years

CALAIS, Me., March 30.—The paper mill and ground wood department of the St. Croix Paper Co., at Woodland, will be operated four days a week, beginning this week. The sulphite department will be suspended indefinitely. This is the first curtailment of working hours since the mill was built 15 years ago, it was stated today.

To Extend Military Penalties

PARIS, March 30.—A London despatch to the Petit Parisien says that Prime Minister Lloyd George, Sir Linnar Worthington-Evans, secretary of state for war, and Field Marshal Wilson, held a conference last evening. The despatch asserts that it is believed in London that the question discussed at the conference, was the extension of military penalties upon Germany as a result of her refusal to pay 12,000,000,000 marks in reparations before May 1, as demanded by the reparations commission.

People Urged to Eat Onions

WASHINGTON, March 30.—"Eat onions" was the advice given to the American people today by the department of agriculture. Unless there is increased consumption of the vegetable, the department says, there will be a great waste of the old crop, of which there is now an estimated carry over of 2500 cars. Failure to consume this surplus will mean also a large surplus in the spring crop, which is reported to be from two to four weeks earlier this year than usual.

Culture and the Pocketbook

Continued

"until we come to the realization that we must utilize all the resources of the municipality to educate, we are not going to educate seriously. We are not going to educate right until we give the children a real notion of what the affairs of actual life are."

"It is going to be difficult," he conceded, "to get the people to recognize that all endeavor has its part in educational activity. Too long we have cherished the idea that education is only to be secured in schoolhouses. Too long we have conceived it to be a matter merely of giving and hearing recitations. If the recitations are good, we have thought, the scholar is good, and vice versa. We have not stopped to consider that some of the most successful men we have were dull pupils at school."

He ridiculed those who are opposed to utilitarianism in education, those whom he quoted as saying to vocational educators, "It is all very well to talk the way you do; but we want education which is primarily directed towards culture, towards character." Mr. Small challenged the theory upon which such statements are based. "I take open issue," he said, "with the theory that academic studies alone make for character and culture. Character is a bundle of habits which grows from our contact with life. We don't acquire it from one school teacher, or group of school teachers; we build it up from living in the world, and get it from all whom we meet."

The speaker almost quoted Gilbert in describing so-called culture, which he characterized as a new veneer. However, veneer that it is, it is not, he said, the fruit solely of Latin and Greek. It comes, in fact, most plentifully from the humble things of life, and an individual may possess small Latin and less Greek, like Shakespeare, without incurring the charge of being "incultus." After all, said Mr. Small, what do the words of antiquity signify of those very habits which are studied by the follower of the classics. Virgil sings as follows: "Arma virumque cano." That is to say, "Arms and the men, I sing." Roman Virgil did not sing of college professors, but of men of the soil, tenders of flocks, men who built ships and went down to the sea in them. The singer of "Iliad's" lofty temples robed in fire" was the historian of men who did the things of life, to enable others, later, to sit back and accumulate veneer. "This veneer," continued Mr. Small, "if often measured by caste, the caste in which we travel. Or corpulence of the pocketbook determines it. Real culture can be achieved in vocational schools perfectly."

Vocational Training

He denied that vocational training is new. "Only certain phases of it are new," he declared. "As far back as anyone made special preparation to do any special thing, there was vocational training. And today when boys and girls go out of school early to work, we should give them special training to fit them for that work. Our young college men leave their studies to go to work. What work? What work are they prepared for? Until we can organize our resources so that boys and girls will be prepared for what's ahead of them, we haven't a first rate democracy. We are striving, through vocational work, to place our youth in positions more advantageous to themselves. That's the only new phase of vocational work. We already have the custom of giving special training to those who are going to practice law or medicine. Why not carry the thing to its logical conclusion? Why not give, not only to those who are to be doctors and attorneys, but every child an opportunity to fit himself or herself to the special work ahead? We vocationalists plead for a universality and variety of opportunity. We seek to meet the needs not merely of a class, but of all. We want to educate vocationally all the children of all the people. That is the way to make an effective citizenry. For children are our most important resource. The state has two kinds of resources, material and human. The latter is immeasurably the more vital. If all the buildings of Lowell were wiped out over night, and the people remained, the city would go on, and improve. But if all the buildings were preserved, and every inhabitant died, of what use would the city be? Cities of antiquity have risen like the Phoenix from their ashes, when there has been the human element remaining, though every structure may have been destroyed."

Continuation Schools

The speaker pointed next to the startling success of continuation schools. "Less than a year old," he stated, "they now have in this commonwealth an enrollment of 24,000 boys and girls." He told how these schools teach home-making to the girls, who learn dressmaking, millinery and cooking, together with the care of children. Fifty per cent. of the time the girls spend in these classes, must be devoted to home-making studies, explained the speaker. The boys get technical training which supplements the practical work they do during the day. The industrial heads are beginning to appreciate, said the speaker, that these schools, together with courses given in the mills and factories, are really good business. It is not necessary for them to be altruists, he declared, to know that better trained employees are made by vocational work. Also the employees are more content.

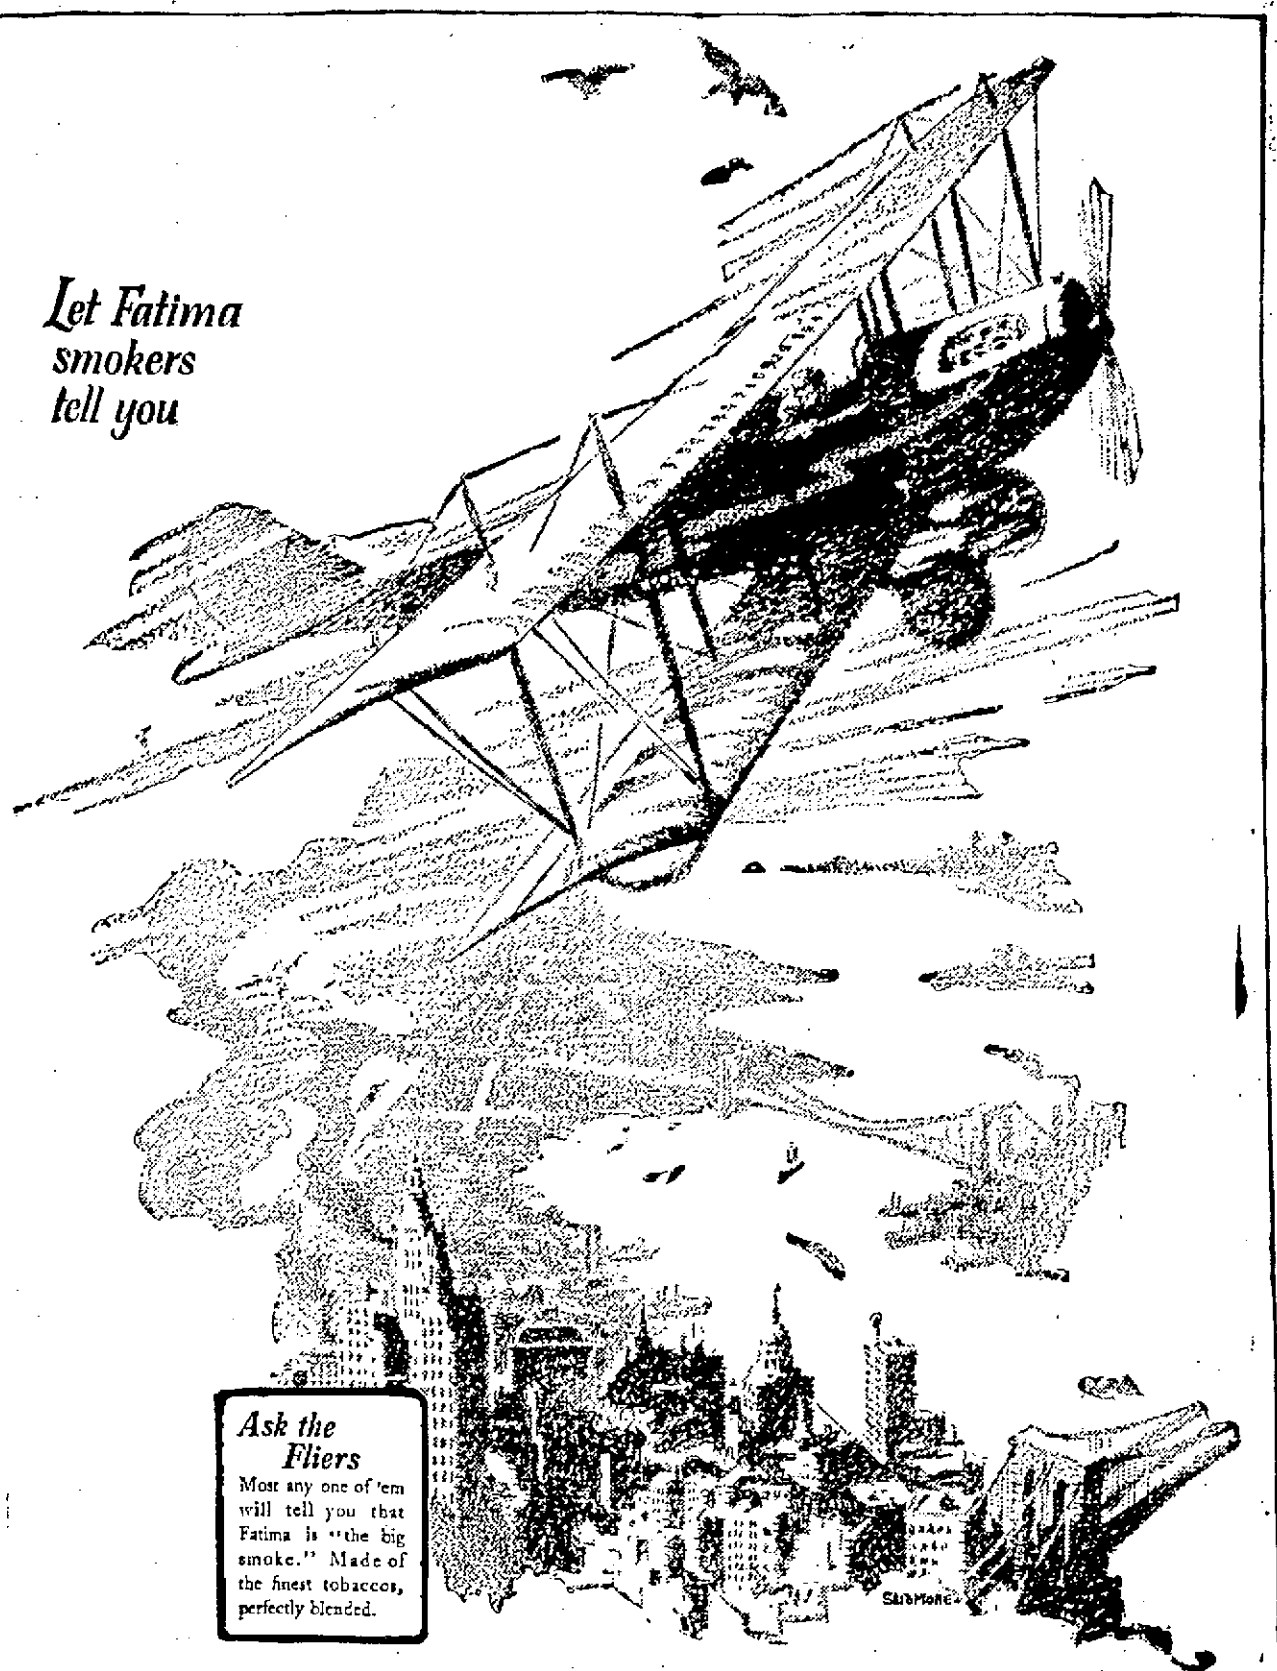

Mr. Small paid high tribute to Mrs. William E. McNamara, social service director at the Hamilton mills, through whose instrumentalities the present continuation course was largely brought about. Mrs. McNamara, who has been most active in welfare work of all kinds at the mill, is a graduate of Boston City hospital. From 1896-1902 she did private nursing and secretarial work. From 1912-1913 she was field secretary of the National Civic Federation. From 1913 she has been service director, Sharp Mfg. Co., Home Bleach and Dye Works, Hamilton Mfg. Co. She is author of numerous articles on health, industry, first aid, etc. She is a member of the Massachusetts State Nurses' association, National League of Nursing Education, American Public Health association, and is also a lecturer on factory nursing, having given a course on this subject at Boston university in 1917.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)
MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE:
Final performance of "Forbidden Fruit," the big Cecil B. De Mille success, will be given at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening. Tomorrow there will be an entire change of program.

The big feature for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be "Playing the Piper," a new George Fitzmaurice production. The play, which has a solid theme which, coupled with the dramatic treatment of the story, makes its appeal irresistible.

The story deals with the life of a New York cabaret-loving character, who is the chief character in Barbara Wyndham, portrayed with astute and charm by Dorothy Dickson, who makes her screen debut in this picture. Dorothy is married to an idle rich young man, but there is little of love in their union until their wealth is swept away in Wall Street. Then both are regenerated in a series of interesting happenings which thrill as they entertain the spectator.

The picture is a delightful one and the support, especially that rendered by such artists as Alma Tell, Rod La Ronde, George Fawcett, Reginald Denny, Robert Schable and Katherine Emmett, is of the first grade.

The other big attraction for the latter half of the week stars popular Thomas Meighan in a photoplay called "The Easy Road."

The story deals with a novelist who makes a wealthy marriage and, finding himself on Easy Street, his ambition wanes and he develops into a drone. His wife quits him and he sinks into the depths, but is finally regenerated after a series of interesting events. Gladys George, a beautiful and talented actress, is the leading woman and leads a capable supporting cast. The picture was directed by Tom Forman and it is in every respect one well worth seeing.

A comedy, "You'll Be Surprised," and the International News will round out the bill.

OPERA HOUSE

Got the blues? Are there things bothering you and leaving the sagging, half-dicked feeling behind them? Here's the greatest remedy in the world—a laugh that starts down to your boots and ripples all the way up your body. The place to get these laughs is at the Opera House. The time to get them is the present week, and the play that lands them for you is the big Broadway success, "Up in Mabel's Room," which is being given by the Lowell Players. It's a heart-aching laugh medium; the funniest, most continuously laughable play that has been staged in years. Plan to see it and laugh yourself tired and happy at the same time. See Miss Fields and Mr. Byron in the principal roles.

RIANTO THEATRE

The Charles Ray picture, "Nineteen and Phyllis," which has received favorable comments on all sides since its release from the laboratories, is making its last appearance at the Rianto theatre today and you will be making a mistake if you don't plan on taking it in. The second feature of the same program introduces master Keaton in "The Haunted House," a continuation of "The Son of Tarzan," a Ford weekly and the Fox News.

Beginning tomorrow the program will be William Fairbanks in "A Western Adventure," Louis Wilson in "The Price Woman Pays," Episode 5 of "Fighting Fate," a comedy and the Fox News.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

In one of the fastest of dancing acts ever seen here, Tim and Kitty McGraw, who are appearing at the B. F. Keith theatre this week, astound with their versatility. From the old fashioned minstrel to the latest the new Wave numbers they give an unvaried dancing turn. An act of marital sunshine and showers is "Twins Live This," which Tom Hiler and his associates offer. It is one situation after another, reeled off at very great speed. The imitations of various musical instruments given by A. Robins constitutes one of the great joys of every performance. His imitating is a very perfect thing. Rome and Wager in a comedy and singing turn are exceedingly likable, and Bobby Peterson, who gives "Fence Stories," has a lot of new things to present. The Bernards, American xylophonists, and Marguerite and Perez, novelty jugglers, round out an excellent show.

THE STRAND

Old-time theatregoers, more than three of the present-day, seem to get more genuine enjoyment out of the super-picture production, "The County Fair," which is being shown the entire week at The Strand, for the reason that they are in a position to contrast the stage version with the film offering and appreciate the immenamount of detail that has been applied to the latter. In his picturization of it, Maurice Tourneur has enlarged on the spirit of that fine old piece which Nell Burgess used for so many years as a starring vehicle upon the legitimate stage. The adventures and humor which was talked about on the stage are pictured with realism and beauty on the screen and the result is one of the most delightful stories ever presented here. "Without Limit," George D. Baker's master production of the gamble of life and love, and the latest Buster Keaton comedy, "The Haunted House," are prize-worthy contributors to the bill. Come early and avoid the rush.

WEAK WOMEN

cannot hope ever to become strong and well again unless they have plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, leaflets and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalizes worn-out, exhausted nerves and gives you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. At all druggists. Beware of substitutes. The genuine has N.I. stamped on every tablet. Always insist on having the genuine—Adv.

POPE'S HIGH TRIBUTE TO CARDINAL GIBBONS

WASHINGTON, March 30.—A tribute from Pope Benedict XV to the late Cardinal Gibbons reached the National Catholic Welfare Council here today, through Cardinal Gasparri, dated March 25.

"On hearing the sad news of Cardinal Gibbons' death, the Holy Father expressed the following sentiments, the message said:

"The death of our dearest brother, the cardinal archbishop of Baltimore, is a great grief not only for his diocese and his country, but also for the whole church. Cardinal Gibbons was one of the great teachers of the magnificent development and the powerful organization, which the Catholic church has attained in his country and for this reason, he is more than anybody else, could show to the people the marvelous truths that the church can produce for the good of mankind even in our times, and notwithstanding, numberless difficulties.

Cardinal Gibbons, excellent priest, learned, unassuming, vigilant pastor, was also an exemplary administrator, a calm and preaching of Christian virtues in private as well as in public life, he contributed efficaciously to the sound progress of his great country. His memory, therefore, must be cherished with profound veneration not only by every Catholic but also by every citizen of the United States of America."

BALTIMORE, March 30.—Catholic laity overflowed the cathedral today at the last of the special requiem masses preceding the final funeral services tomorrow for Cardinal Gibbons. Bishop O. B. Corrigan, vicar general of the diocese, was the celebrant, assisted by members of the local priesthood. The music was sung by the cathedral choir.

At the end of the mass the congregation filed slowly past the bier for a last look at the features of the cardinal and a long line of men, women and children who had gathered in the street meanwhile streamed into the edifice in a procession which bade fair to continue all day. It is estimated that between 25,000 and 30,000 persons viewed the body of the prelate yesterday.

The office for the dead will be kept at the cathedral tonight by the sung of St. Mary's college here, and the diocesan clergy, Bishop Corrigan presiding.

Governor Ritchie gave the final touch to the plan for a general tribute to the cardinal when he issued an official proclamation yesterday calling upon the people of Maryland to suspend all activities at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, the hour of the funeral, and offer a prayer of gratitude for the example of Cardinal Gibbons' life. In Baltimore the mayor and city council have proclaimed a five minute period of suspension.

CABINET DISCUSSES THE RAILWAY PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, March 30.—A comprehensive study of American railway conditions was begun by the administration yesterday with a view to formulation of a definite program for railway rehabilitation.

For more than an hour President Harding discussed the problem with his cabinet, and later, it was announced that he would call into consultation within the next few days the chairman of the two government agencies having closest contact with transportation problems, the interstate commerce commission and the railway labor board. Conferences with railway managers and employees are expected to follow in time to permit action at the coming special session of congress.

CHICAGO, March 30.—Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the United States railroad labor board departed today for Washington in response to a summons from President Harding.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Emma Smith Harris of Lowell, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, to the National Mortgage and Investment Corporation established SHREVEPORT, La., March 30.—After a lapse of four years and six months consumed in traveling 12 miles, a letter mailed at Blanchard, La., in October, 1916, was delivered to Harry S. Weston at the Shreveport postoffice yesterday. The letter was written by A. F. White, Kansas City Southern station agent at Blanchard. It contained a remittance for lodge dues.

ACTS AND RESOLVES

City Clerk Stephen Flynn has received a number of copies of the acts and resolves passed at the extra session of the Massachusetts legislature last December and will distribute them to applicants as long as the supply lasts. The pamphlets also contain the text of the act approved at the state election last November, regulating the manufacture and sale of beer, cider and light wine.

The expense of repairs, furnishing and improving county buildings is estimated at $58,000 for the year. A considerable increase over the $52,537.34 that was expended last year, this having been an excess of $457.13 over the appropriation for this purpose, the commissioners say, certain furniture ordered last year has not yet been received.

No new county buildings are contemplated this year, and none were erected last year.

For care, fuel, lights and supplies in county buildings other than jails and houses of correction the commissioners ask permission to spend $115,000, only a slight increase over the 1920 figure of $112,433.73. The increase, they say, is due to advances in wages and cost of supplies.

Highways, bridges and land damages are estimated for this year at $250,000, as compared with $203,457.26 last year, the reason for which is an increase from $20,000 to $30,000 in the state highway tax.

For county aid to agriculture their estimate is $35,000, practically double the 1920 expenditure of $17,537.43. The commissioners point out that the trustees of county aid to agriculture have submitted to the general court a budget contemplating an expenditure of $55,000, and the commissioners have deemed it wise to ask permission to contribute a little more than half of this sum as the county's share.

The only other item in the schedule is that of pensions, for which it is expected that $15,000 will be needed, as compared with $13,552.10 expended last year.

The county started the year with a net balance of $17,755.32 in the treasury, and for the current year receipts are estimated as follows: Interest, $4500; fees of clerks of courts and registers of deeds, $28,000; fees in district and police courts, $10,000; from jails and houses of correction, $25,000; fines, costs and other fees, $10,000; training school, $7500; and miscellaneous, $1000; total, $159,955.32.

Bulgarian Ministry Blamed for Bulgaria's Entrance Against the Entente

SOFIA, March 30.—Accusations against the Bulgarian ministry headed by Vassil Radoslavoff charging it with responsibility for Bulgaria's entrance into the war against the entente, were approved by parliament here yesterday, two-thirds of the members voting in the affirmative. Members of the ministry were held for trial before the high court.

All the accused men with the exception of M. Radoslavoff who has fled from Bulgaria, have been imprisoned for the past year. Immediate judgment by the court was directed by parliament.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 30.—J. K. Myers, night watchman at the bank at Stuart, near here, was shot and killed by five bandits last night. The bandits who were reported to have obtained only $10, escaped in an automobile to Des Moines where they abandoned their machine.

Passholders Must Give Up Seats

BOSTON, March 30.—Passholders on the Boston & Maine railroad must stand if paying passengers cannot be seated. General Manager B. R. Pollock has issued to all conductors an order that this rule be enforced strictly. Should the seated holder of a pass fail to rise, voluntarily, conductors are instructed to ask them to do so, quietly and unobtrusively. Failure to comply then will be made the subject of report to headquarters, which will take disciplinary action.

Do You Weigh As Much As You Ought?

How Many Thin People Build Themselves Up to Normal Standards

Do you realize that unless your weight is up to normal you are actually in danger of serious illness? No better proof of this is needed than the strict rules of the insurance companies which forbid the issuance of insurance to those who are underweight.

Many thin people find that they gain weight steadily while taking Father John's Medicine. The pure food tonic elements which are contained in this old-fashioned prescription strengthen and build up those who are thin, weak and run down. It is real food and in a form which even the weakened system can easily take up.

HEAD OF HAVILAND CHINA FIRM DEAD
LIMOGES, France, March 30.—C. E. Haviland, for half a century head of the famous porcelain manufacturing firm, has died here. He was a descendant of Theodore Haviland, an American, who came to France and established the firm of porcelain manufacturers bearing his name.

The American origin of the firm served it well 15 years ago when Limoges was in the throes of a great strike. Mr. Haviland, who served in a consular capacity for the American government, flew the American flag over his factory when the mob became menacing and, as a consequence, the factory was undisturbed.
